

Big Gifts for John Muir Hospital Now Total $50,000; Deadline Near

Of the nearly $150,000 in local donations raised thus far for the John Muir Hospital, Walnut Creek, nearly $50,000 is in the form of large donations, ranging from $1000 to $7500.

The "big givers" including the following corporations or their foundations:

Bank of America, Bank of California, Crocker - Anglo Bank, Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Hagstrom Food Stores, Lucky Stores, Montgomery Ward and Company, Safeway Stores, Inc., Shell Oil Company, Tidewater Oil Company, United States Steel Company, Wells Fargo-American Trust Company, and Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

"Their interest in the community and its welfare deserves appreciation," said Alfred Layton of Diablo, chairman of the hospital finance committee and building fund drive.

More than 200 individuals have made gifts of from $5 to $999, and 55 individuals have given $1000 or more in the drive for $300,000.

February 15 is the deadline for raising the "tangible" local support necessary to qualify for the allotted Hill-Burton grant to build a 150-bed, $4,000,000 non-profit community hospital on Ygnacio Valley Road.

NO GIFT is to small. Regardless of amount, your contribution is needed to build this hospital to serve you and your family," Layton said.

Contributions or pledges must be received no later than February 15 and should be directed to the hospital office, 1361 Locust Street.

A "heart-warming experience" in the big job of hospital fund-raising was described by Alfred Layton of Diablo, chairman of John Muir Memorial Hospital's drive for $300,000.

AN UNSOLICITED $500 check for John Muir Memorial Hospital building fund arrived from Rio Vista . . . from a person who hasn't been in Walnut Creek for 15 years.

The donor recently had lunch in San Francisco with Layton, who in the course of conversation mentioned John Muir Memorial Hospital and the need in this area for additional hospital facilities.

Home Becomes Inferno; Family of Four Dies

Flames racing through the home of Clarence R. McCredy, 5 Washington Lane, Orinda, shortly after midnight Friday caused the death of McCredy, his wife, Constance and their two sons, Mathew, 4 and Alex, 2.

Explosive flames beat back rescue efforts and turned the $30,000 home into an inferno within minutes. Orinda Fire Marshal Bill Koch said death of the family was accidental, due to asphyxiation.

Cause of the fire is still under investigation, according to Koch. He added that materials have been sent to laboratories for testing and it would be some time before the true cause of the fire is determined.

CONTRARY to previous reports, Koch said the television set did not reveal evidence that it was the cause of the fire. A babysitter who had been in the McCredy home earlier in the evening had told investigators that the television set had been shorting.

Koch also said that natural gas was not the cause of the explosive flames as all natural gas lines were intact. He added that it appeared that the fire had burned for some time, then when heat broke a window and permitted oxygen to enter, the accumulated natural gases exploded with violence, causing flames to race through the house.

Position of the McCredys' bodies indicated that the parents had but minutes, perhaps seconds, to make desperate, but futile dashes for their boys.

MCCREDY lay sprawled in a rear laundry room. His wife was on the floor in the hallway outside her bedroom. The children were still in bed in a front bedroom.

Just an hour and a half earlier, the McCredys had left an open house at the home of Franklin Allen next door at 6 Washington Lane.

Mrs. Allen said she was washing dishes when, out her kitchen window, she saw a burst of flames shooting from the McCredy living room. At the same moment neighbors Gene Hagler and W. W. Ward heard a loud "swoosh, like the sound a milk carton makes when it burns."

THEY RACED toward the McCredy home and noticed as they ran that glass on the north side of the house had blown out and that there was a hole in the roof. Their rescue attempts were thwarted by flame, smoke and intense heat.

Final rites for the family were held yesterday in Sunnyside, Washington. Arrangements were handled by Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette mortuary.

MCCREDY was a Navy veteran and California manager for a brewing company. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McCredy, Sr., of Washington; a brother, George Eileen Begin of Oregon.

Surviving Mrs. McCredy are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rouleau of Washington and a sister, Mrs. Daris M. Daniel of Texas.

Adjustment Board OK's Variances

Hearing on Duffel-Smoot Companies' request for a land use permit to build a medical and professional office building on lot 41 of Encinas de Moraga fronting on the west side of Camino Encinas has been postponed until January 31 at the request of the applicant.

A decision had been scheduled by the board of adjustment in Martinez Wednesday night.

The board approved by a two-to-one vote the application of Bryan & Murphy for a variance permit to establish four lots, three less than one-half acre on property fronting on the southwest corner of Hacienda Circle, approximately 400 feet south of Acacia Drive.

Marjorie Parsons Found Unharmed

Marjorie Lynn Parsons, 14-year-old Orinda girl missing since December 1, was found unharmed in Stockton Monday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Parsons, Jr. of 50 Meadow View Road, Marjorie had been the object of a statewide search. She completely vanished from the site where the family's second car was found in San Mateo County the day after her disappearance from her home.

Marjorie had taken the car, loaded it with camping equipment and extra clothes, and left without her parents' knowledge. Fears for her safety mounted, when the disabled car was found, minus Marjorie and the equipment.

An attractive blonde, Marjorie was taken into protective custody and lodged in juvenile hall after a Stockton man and his wife reported she had been left with them Saturday night by a friend.

They became suspicious when she evaded their attempts to question her, sheriff's officers said. Investigation of the case is still underway by Lieutenant Norman Wilson of the juvenile department of the sheriff's office.

The Parsons saw their daughter for the first time in more than a week when they visited her in Martinez Wednesday. Mrs. Parsons told The Sun that they were very happy that their daughter is safe, adding that she and Parsons wished to thank all those who had written and called with offers of help, prayers and sympathy.

Are Those Birds Sober?

By NORMAN COLBY

Should sobriety tests be conducted on those hundreds of robins seen helping themselves to our berry bushes?

Local residents have been calling The Sun offices describing how robins are swarming over their pyracantha and wild toyon berry bushes.

After a while, many of them appear to be staggering about the lawns.

SOME PEOPLE believe it might be some form of intoxication, but I am inclined to think perhaps those staggering robins are the ones which are eating too many berries," said Harry Adamson, a past president of the Audubon Society's Mt. Diablo Chapter, and former member of the Golden Gate Chapter.

"We don't see these robins in summer, you know," said Adamson.

"Where the robin is a sign of spring in other parts of the United States, it is a sign of approaching winter here.

"These robins spend the summer in the High Sierra or Canada, because its so hot and relatively dry here and it is difficult for them to raise their young.

"THEY ARRIVE here in the fall, and move in flocks, looking for the berry bushes which are ripe. They may hang around several ripe bushes for two or three days before moving on. "Some of them nest in the roots in Joaquin Miller park in Oakland, and return here by day," Adamson noted.

Adamson said that the berry bushes would create a mess, even if not attacked by the wax-like substance on their wings.

AND THEY also like berries, family, anyway," said Adamson. The migrating birds cover all

Fallout Booklets Arrive; Some Plans May Violate Local Rules

About 2500 copies of the Federal Government's booklet, "Fallout Protection, What to Know and Do About Nuclear Attack," are available on request at the County Disaster Office, 2130 Arnold Industrial Highway.

Residents may obtain them free of charge by telephone request (YE 5-5042) or by visiting the office, according to Ron Nelson, deputy civil defense director.

"We will be happy to mail the booklets as long as they last," said Nelson.

"WE MUST emphasize that we have not had a chance to review the booklets, and it appears that many of the suggestions will not be up to county standards.

"I refer especially to the expedient-type shelters described which might be all right for remote areas of the country, or for someone who wants to build something in a big hurry.

"But requirements in the county and in several cities are much higher than those for the expedient shelters in the booklet, and we will be issuing a statement on this soon," Nelson said.

The booklet has 46 pages, and is pocket-size, with an introduction by Robert McNamara, U.S. secretary of defense.

THE BOOKLET also describes the national civil defense program.

McNamara says, "Judgments may differ. It is my considered judgment that this is a reasonable and prudent program."

Some of the subject headings include "Effects of a 5-Megaton Burst," "Danger of Fire Storms," "Exposure to Radiation," "How Early Fallout Looks."

"Community Shelters," "Family Shelters," "Last-Minute Improvised Measures," "Shelter Supplies," "Emergency Housekeeping," "First Aid."

THE ACALANES Adult Education Center also announced that the course, "Individual and Family Survival," will again be offered.

Classes will begin at each high school next week. Class hours will be from 7 to 10 p.m.

County Postpones Word on Development

Closing the hearing after more than an hour of discussion with civic leaders and the G & L Investment Company, Contra Costa County Planners Tuesday deferred decision on the company's request for rezoning until after they take a field trip to the subject property January 19.

The property involved is now zoned general agricultural district. The applicant wants to have this zoning changed to single family residential R-40 and single family residential R-20.

LOCATED at the northeastern end of Lombardy Lane and continuing east to Happy Valley Road, the parcel encompasses 365 acres.

G & L Investment Company representatives presented plans before the planning commission in Martinez that reveal lot sizes of 20,000 and 40,000 square feet.

Plans presently call for construction of $40,000 and $60,000 homes on these lots.

Frank Draeger, engineer representing the applicant said building would proceed over an eight to 10-year period, a new sewer line would be installed and that school sites have been made available.

Acalanes Union High School trustees had requested a site for a new high school, although the entire subdivision is in the Alhambra Union High School District which has not been heard from by the commission, according to Russ Griffith, principal planner.

A REPORT to the county planning commission from the county flood control district indicated there would be no flooding problem in the proposed development.

Representatives of three civic bodies in Orinda presented their organizations' objections to the development.

Percy Dawson of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association said his group had no objection to the lot sizes, but feared access roads to the property would be inadequate and present a hazard to Sleepy Hollow residents.

Eric Nielsen, president, Orinda Association, questioned the service areas of the applicant, indicating that both schools and fire protection could be problems.

BOB KAHN, president, Happy Valley Improvement Association voiced his group's concern with the traffic problem unless other accesses are designed.

Griffith said no decision would be made on the request until the first Tuesday in February.

Expansion of Working Committees Planned

Elected December 28 to serve as president of the Orinda Association, Eric Nielsen of 224 Camino Sobrante has issued the following statement:

"The association hopes and expects to continue to safeguard the development of Orinda as a fine residential community.

"The obvious problems confronting the association in 1962 are zoning and development of the association's own property.

"We will work hard to keep the community growing in a manner which will enhance its qualities as a residential area. We plan to establish the tax committee as a permanent body, to continue to study and report on the activities and budgets of our four special tax districts.

"WE PLAN to expand our working committees to include all areas of Orinda and insure representation of the residents in matters of concern to the community."

Nielsen has been a member of the Orinda Association for seven years, the same number of years that he has resided in Orinda.

He served the association as vice-president last year and has been an active member in the past of the planning committee and civic affairs committee of the association.

Division industrial relations manager for California Packing Corporation, Nielsen has a wife, "Scotty" (Mary Scott) and three daughters, Carol, 8; Barbara, 6 and Kristen, 3. The two older girls attend Sleepy Hollow School.

OTHER OFFICERS elected to serve the association for 1962 are Harry Fledderman, vice-president; James Keating, secretary and Bill Brobeck, treasurer.

Fledderman served the association as chairman of the civic affairs committee last year and is also a director from the El Toyonal District. Keating was a director last year, representing the Del Rey, Lost Valley District. He was re-elected this year.

Brobeck, a past president of the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association, has been a member of the Orinda Association for the past 10 years. He has served on the civic affairs committee of the association and was elected a director this year.

THE ORINDA Association Board of Directors meets the third Monday night of each month at the Orinda School. Any interested resident may attend these meetings, according to Nielsen, and all residents or groups with a problem pertaining to the community are urged to attend.

During the past, the association has safeguarded half acre minimum for residential lots, endeavored to see Orinda grow according to plans best suited to the natural beauty of the area and served as the eyes and ears of the community in matters of taxation and budgeting within the four special tax districts in the area.

The new board, according to Nielsen, plans to expand the working committees to insure active representation in matters of community concern from all parts of Orinda.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore said Lindsay was identified as the man who raped three San Mateo County women.

A jury trial was scheduled for January 15 by Federal Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli.

Highway Will Be Built; Rumored Delay Untrue

Rumors that construction of the eight-lane highway from Orinda Crossroads to the Caldecott Tunnel has been deferred and the funds transferred to Alameda County are completely untrue, according to Jack Grassburger, public relations representative of the State Division of Highways, San Francisco.

Grassburger said that plans were moving ahead on the seven and a half million dollar project as scheduled, with an anticipated completion date of September, 1963.

He could give no reason for the rumor, other than some technical revisions of the original plans involving slope and quantities of earth to be moved which are being made.

Grassburger also said the rumor that work on the freeway from Walnut Creek to Danville would be deferred was also untrue.

Bill Koch Will Be Honored at January Banquet

Bill Koch, selected as Orinda Man of the Year by the 1961 selection committee last week, will be honored the latter part of January at The Sun-Junior Chamber of Commerce Man of the Year Award Banquet.

Koch will be honored by the community at this time and will receive a certificate from The Sun designating him as 1961 Man of the Year.

Plans for the annual event are being finalized this week.

Bank Suspect Files Plea of Innocent

Thomas N. Lindsay, 27, has pleaded innocent to robbing the Orinda Central Valley National Bank on November 9. More than $3700 was taken at gunpoint by a man in sun glasses who put the money in a small brown box.

Lindsay was arrested in a Redwood City courtroom.

A jury trial was scheduled for January 15 by Federal Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli.

Sheriff Earl Whitmore said Lindsay was identified as the man who raped three San Mateo County women.

New Gymnasium at Acalanes High Heads District's '62-'63 Program

Acalanes Union High School District trustees have approved a $1 million building program for 1962-63. The money is part of the $3.9 million in bonds approved last February by district voters.

The district's building program will include construction of a new gymnasium on the Acalanes High campus. Construction date has been moved up from 1964-65.

The high school board directed the district architects, Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Taries, to develop plans so that bids may be called this summer. It is expected that the new Acalanes gym will be similar to the gym at Del Valle High.

Other phases include at Las Lomas—development of a student snack area and enlarging the counseling and guidance offices.

Miramonte—construction of a combination lecture classroom and music building.

Del Valle—bleachers for athletic events.

Campolindo—construction of the basic core of school facilities.

Acalanes—providing a room for audio-visual facilities, installing flexible partitions in science classes, and the building of the new gym.

The building program also calls for additions to the district administrative offices.

Completion of construction for last year and the building program approved for 1962-63 will leave about $1.35 million for future construction.

In other action trustees also approved revised policies and procedures for internal district administration.

BUSINESS of the Orinda Association during 1962 will be handled by these officers who were elected December 28 at a special meeting held in the Orinda Community Church. The Street Where You Live

SO YOU CAN'T EXPECT News when we've been hibernating after the Holidays . . . but I wonder if you know that Sally Ann Road out Glorietta Way is named after the Bill Fleagers' two daughters . . . & the big house high up on La Casa Vieja (which means The Big House), currently occupied by a sizable family, the Paul Barrigans, was once long ago, the home of a prominent family whose dear pater made his daily hike through the hills into Oakland.

Later on the three-story house, Very Old, (but with new noiseless plumbing & NO kitchen equipment) was used for a Nursery School. It's the kind of a house in which you'd expect to find a Grandma Moses kitchen scene, except when we saw it there WAS NO kitchen . . . The front door was 7 or 8' high & half as wide.

DID YOU know that one side of Orinda Village USED to be called the Two Bit Side—while the Country Club Side was referred to as the Four Bit Side? Back when life was simpler, that's exactly how they distinguished the two parts of town . . . Peg Kirby, who now teaches our kids to swim (or to mind their manners in Cafeteria line) some twenty-years back taught the tots to ride horseback at her Mom's riding academy, which was in the same "Early Alamo" buildings where Orinda Village Hdw., etc. are now.

BUT WE'RE off the track. I meant to take you over Ivy Drive Way where the lupine & mustard gave way to crabgrass in cultivated lawns and the birds no longer have to build their nests . . . the subdividers do it for them w/split level ones under the eaves of the homey houses . . . Here, the dog population is really profuse.

A NEAT place to bicycle, that area, but where in the world around here can a kid have a good roller skate? You know, arms flailing, body flying, & the inevitable bruise on the knee the size of a silver dollar. We always had one, but then, WE had sidewalks.

VASHELL WAY, of course, you know after whom THAT was named, but Daphne Gerhaert just happens to live on Daphne Court & I don't think it's named after HER, do you know now?

Well, what do you know? That the kids consider Orinda Estates (Hacienda, Acacia, etc.) a very special kind of Grade A Plus Kids' Confinement . . . that Los Norrabos spelled backwards means The Barrons & that would be Caroline & Kids & Company of Jack Barron who has a right to name his own road, hasn't he?

IF YOU WANT to get back on that bicycle, try riding out the easy curves & wooded byways of La Encinal some day, one of the oldest streets hereabouts, up off El Toyonal, & any season of the year is its prettiest. Right now you're likely to find the deer leaping (loping?) through the carpet of gold leaves, but any time, any season, this is a very special kind of street.

Along it lives Mrs. William Seroy, one of our Most Senior Citizens, whose Japanese-inspired house on the hill w/Torii Gate & orangey trimmings, takes you back to summer houses of Yesterday & the year you were fifteen in Santa Cruz mountains. You never were 15 in Santa Cruz Mountains? Well, never mind—

For a similar spot, too, take the kids for a Sunday Drive out Canyon way past Moraga. The scent of redwoods & the stately forest giants are here in as pretty a form as at any state park or Big Basin byway. CANYON is like someplace detached, a remote haven from this restless rushing world we live in, even here!

Where the Deer and . . .

WE COULD HUFF & PUFF our bikes, but we'd never make it up Donald Drive THAT way, so better by car, but not on a foggy night, for the better to view in 3-D, all that is Orinda, Lafayette & our wide & western places. It's another Vistavision view like the one you get when you drop down from high atop Grizzly Stables. Wide & Wonderful!

Over in Sleepy Hollow, where the deer & the antelope play right in the front yards at Tarry & Van Tassel Lane, (Anybody seen YOUR rose bushes lately?) we nominate for the Most in house signs, the one pointing the way to the Boyle's peaceful domicile—It reads simply "Stella & Bob" on the wooden marker & sits like a perennial Valentine at the entrance path to their house.

NOMINATIONS FOR OTHER HOUSES along Streets Where You Live:

Most formal facade—The Vic Graber home on Rheem Blvd., once the home of gambler Bones Remmer.

Most Hansel & Gretel—The Norman Parker's Love Nest on Rose Lane.

Most Continental or Mediterranean: The Joseph Long's Lombardy Lane digs w/its pert Gazebo from which you always expect to see Mary Petty's maid fluttering out the window.

Most Adobe Hacienda: The William Motts Spanish Tiled-roof garden spot.

The House with the Most Innovations, incl. indoor icerink, theater, swimming, bowling alley, etc.: The Ted Harrers' out Glorietta Way.

THE MOST organized House in Town with 10 Children: The cozy warm Kittiwake Rd. menage of the William Lincoln family where the new Triplets are holding court.

The Most English Manorish: The Walter Boysens'—where the white washed fences & trees are by never anything but Boysens' paints—

YOU'D HAVE to be fairly new not to know that Orinda Park Pool situated on El Toyonal was the FIRST Pool in this area & if you bought a lot back in the Thirties for $200 you could have a free membership to the old swim hole which, back then, had a tree island kerplunk in its middle, mud on its bottom, & everybody's old tires floating around on top! Today it's by far the prettiest of all the pools, barring none!

RIDE OUT RHEEM & whoops! Over the Crest of the hill for another true Californian view . . . Here, used to be favorite chomping grounds for the herds of cows & a fine spot to fly kites unhampered by telephone poles & wires. But it's hard to remember it that way when it's such a flourishing neighborhood now.

IF IT'S NEWS YOU NEED: The Jim MacDonald's Katy returned to school, a tanned tropic darling next to her paleface schoolmates, all from sunning it up in Hawaii & aboard the Matsonia Sun deck . . . Lid & Kirk Miles had a ball in NY, took former Straw-Hatter Jane Connell (once Lid's student) out to dinner, rubbed elbows at Sardi's w/Phil Silvers & other show biz celebs & even toasted us one in our old stamping grounds.

STATIC RECEPTION was not what I got when I turned up to see the adorable Lincoln Triplets but noticing the kitchen radio sputtering, I turned it off . . . Bill Lincoln gently informed me the radio was their two-way speaker system. Attached to the three (THREE!) bassinets, you can hear every cry—or bubble—as the case might be, from upstairs to downstairs.

The Sociables

By MARIE MONAHAN

EVERYBODY stayed pretty close to the homefront for New Year's Eve w/neighborhood parties popping up all over the place & many celebrants playing it safe & just making the rounds right in this area.

OVER in the Ivy Drive sector, you could tell the parties by the cars parked out front . . . For one on Beaconsfield Court, John & Joan Purvis entertained for neighbors, Joe & Joyce Carter, Barbara & Grabe Smith, Pauline & Ed Erickson dropping in late . . . John & Zennie Roberts coming over after midnight when the last of daughter Leslie's party guests wound up their New Year's noisemaking.

A NICE innovation on the morrow, NY's Day, was the neighborhood Coffee hosted by Jean & Bob Marvin over in Inland Valley . . . A host of neighbor friends dropping in for coffee & rolls & post NY patter, many bringing their children to make it a Family Affair. Coffee from 9-12 & guests lingering on at the casual informal get-together.

A CUCKOO CLOCK, slightly askew (a nicer word than cock-eyed), was the whimsical centerpiece at the NO-HOST party held NY's Eve at the home of the Robert Pridmores on Rustic Way . . .

Three Unoccupied Homes 'Anything Goes' In Lafayette Burglarized Is Tonight And Tomorrow

Five burglaries took place in the local unincorporated areas during the past week, the sheriff's Lafayette sub-station reported yesterday.

Three Lafayette homes were burglarized, an Orinda garage entered and a construction company toolshed ransacked in Orinda.

The Muth Construction Company reported that a toolshed located at a new subdivision development at 1 Bates Boulevard, Orinda, was entered and $240 worth of equipment taken.

Lee Muth, owner of the company, reported the burglary to deputies last week.

A lock on the toolshed door was pried off to gain entry, he said.

TAKEN from the shed were six coils of heavy-duty electric cable, two boxes of .22 shells for an impact gun that drives nails through concrete and a box of nails for the same gun. The gun was left behind.

The lock on a company truck was also damaged, but the attempt to force the door open was unsuccessful, deputies said.

A garage with the door standing open was too big a temptation for someone last Saturday night in Orinda.

W. O. Brunk, 58 California Avenue, told deputies that he noticed his electric saw and sander were missing when he went to close the garage doors early Sunday morning.

The tools were in the garage at 9 p.m., he told deputies. He valued the tools at $85.

TWO vacationing Lafayette families returned to find their homes had been entered last week.

Mrs. Ruth Mallory told deputies that someone had entered her home at 3183 Caminas Colorados while she was vacationing for two weeks.

She reported the burglary when she arrived home last Sunday.

However, the only items missing were six books of Blue Chip Stamps, deputies said. Other, more valuable items, were not touched, they said.

Entry was made through a rear kitchen door that had a faulty lock, Mrs. Mallory said.

Leland Butler, 3172 Cordova Way, told deputies that $25 in cash and a gold watch were taken from a bedroom dresser while he and his family were away for 10 days.

ENTRY was made by pulling open a screen door and opening the unlocked inner door, deputies said.

There were no other signs of forced entry, they pointed out.

Butler said there was more cash in another dresser drawer and other valuable items in the house, but nothing else was touched.

A suitcase with table linens and an ornamented beverage stein were taken from the home of Carolotte Jones, 3658 West Road.

Inside Out . . .

By THE EVESDROPPER

WE RECEIVED a beautifully typed-out press release from a prominent Lafayette citizen the other day with this preface:

"I've been carrying this around in my pocket for a couple of weeks. Hope you can still use it."

We did . . . we always like to be first with the news. You see, nobody else could print the story either. We all agreed, however, it would have been more timely if it could have been printed when it was originally written.

SITTING among the bleary eyed revelers New Year's morning at a local restaurant was clear-eyed Walnut Creek Police Captain Frank Thompson and his wife. It was not the celebration's aftermath for Thompson, but only an early start for duck-hunting.

MOST OF the 12-foot high candy cane decorations used in Walnut Creek over the holidays survived, but New Year's Eve rowdies damaged several, and a few others were stolen from the Broadway Plaza area just before Christmas.

FUNNY HOW news items get to the editorial staff. One recent source of information was an anonymous gentleman at a cocktail party who knew somebody in a large division of a state office. This gentleman (the one at the cocktail party) passed on his information to his friend who became our informant.

We're still tracking down the story . . . and mighty glad to get the tip!

PEOPLE in the know have long been wondering when the axe was going to fall on the county official who preferred to operate his office from a non-county building where refreshments were more convenient.

Looks as if it might have happened. . . .

WHAT IS Walnut Creek recreation leader Jim Maggart going to do? His fiancée, Kaye Wiley, recently announced their engagement, followed by an announcement that she will be studying at the University of Paris until next August.

Maybe Jim should learn French? . . . or join the peace corps.

By the way, Kaye is a Walnut Creek girl.

Smith To Head Realtors

J. N. Smith of Pleasant Hill will become the new president of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board next Wednesday during a noon luncheon at the Walnut Creek Elks Club.

He will succeed Charles E. Bailey.

Smith announced that the board's multiple listing sales for 1961 was more than $36,202,000, which is almost four millions more than last year's record, and some $28 million more than the record for 1951, 10 years ago.

THERE WERE some 1873 individual sales in 1961, compared to 1769 for the previous year.

The central county is getting more than its share of the 1961 population increase recorded each month in Contra Costa County, and continued growth is anticipated.

Smith has brokerage offices at 2042 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, and has been a realtor and broker for 14 years.

He has been an active member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and the California Real Estate Association.

HE IS a member of the Diablo Vista County Water District board, and likes to work in his garden during spare hours.

Other new officers are as follows: Ray Henry of Alamo, vice president; Paul Burton of Concord, secretary-treasurer; Rowland Hedges of Walnut Creek, president of the women's division.

Directors are Margaret Caudel, Frank Curtis, Joe Marcella, Clark Wallace, Carl Bryant, Charles Bailey, Jerry Deutscher, Tom Duffy, Dave Rockwell, Bill Anderson, Ted Poehler, Dick Jarrett, Ray Isaacs, Ted Barcelon and Nick Carter.

BILLIONS SPENT

Americans spent more than $57 billion in 1960 to buy, operate and maintain their motor vehicles, reports the National Automobile Club.

Glenn Allen Heads State Chemist Group

Glenn L. Allen, Jr., of 61 Crest Avenue, Walnut Creek, has been named new chairman of the California Section of the American Chemical Society.

Allen is industrial relations manager for the Dow Chemical Company's Western Division in Pittsburg.

He received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry from the University of California, Berkeley.

. . . And a Happy New Year!

ENTERPRISE

"... the impatient mind waiting for an idea to get dressed."

In 1937 the idea was "dressed" and the idea was Cooperation. In 1937, a little Co-op store opened on Shattuck Avenue in Berkeley; in 1938, a Service Station at Bancroft and San Pablo. On January 1, 1947, the two Co-ops, then on University Avenue, merged. In October, 1957 a Co-op Shopping Center opened in Walnut Creek.

1937-1962

25 years

We, 20,000 Bay Area families, take pride in demonstrating that we can run a business efficiently in competition with other forms of free enterprise.

We have just paid ourselves $396,587 in refunds on our purchases or $4.04 for each $100 which we spent at our Co-op; we also paid ourselves $55,340 in dividends on our investment in the Co-op. We have paid ourselves more than $1,000,000 during the past five years. We contributed $1,254,624 to payroll in the East Bay and we paid in direct taxes during the last year the following:

City of Berkeley.....	$ 8,420
Property tax and business license
County of Alameda.....	29,100
Property tax
County of Contra Costa.....	15,050

State Franchise Tax.....	9,000

Planners Turn Thumbs Down On Rezoning

Contra Costa County Planning Commission Tuesday recommended denial of the rezoning request of Elbert L. Wright to rezone property from multiple family residential to retail business district.

A .64 acre area fronting 160 feet on the east side of Oakland Street, the subject property is approximately 210 feet south of Oakland Street's intersection with Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Previously the planning commission has recommended denial of the property's rezoning to retail business to other applicants. The commission stated it is their belief that property should remain zoned multiple family residential and not become a business area.

Hats Off To...

Clarence Betz, a Big Credit to Community

EVERYTHING ON THE CREDIT side, please, for Clarence (Bee) Betz who has not only watched the community grow but has worked right along with its growth and back in 1945, together with Ernest Mathy, named The Orinda Association which grew out of Orindians, Inc., and its predecessor, the Moraga Highway Improvement Association.

The lean sandy-haired gentleman who resembles a Country Squire and wears his boots and tweed coat well, made his first when he gifted his petite wife Norma (her nickname is Toots) in Orinda home on Orchard Road, moving here in May '41. But 1945 with a horse for an Anniversary present, the Betzes had to find something more suitable for the horse, of course, and that's how they came by their charming country place on Sunrise Hill.

THE LOCAL ACCOUNTANT and tax consultant served the Orinda Association at its first Secty.-Treas. from '46 to '49 and as his own business expanded, so did his civic interests.

After balancing the books for the Orinda Better Business Association, a forerunner of the Chamber of Commerce, he was elected Secty.-Treas. of the new Chamber of Commerce in 1954 and has served in that capacity ever since.

HIS OTHER INTERESTS include Secty.-Finance Officer of the Orinda Fire District since '46; Rotary member since '50 currently serving as publicity director; Charter member and Secty.-Treas. of the Orinda Rangers, a Horsemen's Association; a member of the Beautification Committee and business manager for The Dramateurs since '56.

THE UC GRAD, a native bayarean still active in his alumnae Sigma Phi Epsilon affiliation, was Secty.-Treas. of the Orinda Fiesta at the completion of the Cloverleaf in 1954.

AT SUNRISE HILL, their spacious place that houses horses, a refurbished barn, a sizable riding ring, a charming house and outdoor area, Bee always has a few "fences to mend," literally, and enjoys barbecuing, baseball, books and gardening.

Ceremony To Open Muni Court

A brief ceremony will precede the opening of the Walnut Creek Municipal Court in the Veteran's Memorial Building, 1250 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, Monday morning.

"I am inviting many county officials and others concerned with court proceedings to stop by at 8:30 a.m. and tour the building," said Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn.

The court has been moved from its former location at the corner of East and Locust streets. The main floor renovation cost the county some $71,000.

New features include air conditioning, indirect lighting, wall paneling for the rooms, controlled acoustics.

There is some 4200 square feet of space compared to about 1800 square feet in the former location.

There is a main courtroom, rooms for the marshal, clerk, reporter and jury, also the judge's chambers.

School Trustees To Meet Monday

Trustees of the Orinda Union School District will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the library of the Pine Grove School.

Included on the agenda will be the adoption of a resolution accepting the notice of completion for the new administration building; discussion of evacuation policy; a report regarding a study made by the education advisory council on discipline and discussion of future construction.

Where's the Fire?

Orinda Fire District responded to the following calls this week:

THURSDAY — 4:56 p.m. wash-down on Highway 24, truck was turned over.

MONDAY — 7:55 p.m., Erwin Way at Orinda Way, horses loose on highway, were caught and tied out.

TUESDAY — 11:47 a.m., El Toyonal investigation of smoky fireplace; 4:37 p.m., Brookside Road, standby call with resuscitator.

WEDNESDAY — 10:50 a.m., bonfire on Adobe Lane in Moraga.

Campolindo Boundaries Retained

Acalanes Union High School District trustees this week approved the retention of the Acalanes Road-Hidden Valley areas in the attendance boundaries of the new district high school Campolindo.

Parents from Acalanes Road-Hidden Valley had requested that their children be allowed to continue attending Acalanes High. The board approved the recommendation made last fall by Ross Reagan, assistant superintendent for business, as the "best balance between kids and facilities."

The Acalanes Road-Hidden Valley parent group had recommended that the Silver Springs and Powell Drive areas of Lafayette be included in the Campolindo boundary as a substitute for their area.

School Districts Talk Unification

Members of the boards of trustees of the Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga, Canyon and Walnut Creek Elementary School Districts and the Acalanes Union High School District met to discuss unification plans last night at 8 p.m. at the Acalanes High School cafeteria.

The trustees discussed ways and means of accomplishing "Plan F" which would create two unified school districts in the present Acalanes High School District.

One would combine Orinda, Moraga and Canyon Elementary Districts and Miramonte and Campolindo High Schools.

The other would include Lafayette and Walnut Creek elementary districts and Las Lomas, Del Valle and Acalanes High Schools.

The school districts are trying to work out an alternate plan to total unification which has been approved by the County Committee on School District Reorganization.

Freeway Bidding In March

Bids will be sought in March for the construction of the $12,990,000 state freeway to run 6.7 miles from Walnut Creek south to the southern portion of Danville, it was announced.

The project is the largest in the Bay Area this year, according to Jack Grassburger, spokesman for the Division of Highways, District 4.

The freeway will begin near Rudgear Road, the southern terminus of the Walnut Creek bypass, and run to Freitas Road, Danville, with three lanes of traffic in each direction.

It will be parallel to and east of the present Highway 21. The work will take about two years.

It is expected that bids will also be sought early this year for the eight-lane freeway between Orinda and the Caldecott Tunnel. Four lanes in each direction will be built at a cost of about $10 million.

Poodle and Horse

Patricia Holifield of 1896 Second Avenue, Walnut Creek, reported that her poodle was kicked by a horse, December 23.

Hospital Says Injured Boy Is Recovering

John Kerns, 4, of 7 Corte Bombero in Orinda, is reported in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital where he was treated for injuries suffered in an automobile accident last Friday on the freeway near Walnut Creek.

The mother of the boy, Mrs. Faye Kerns, was driver of the accident car. She was also injured but has been released.

Both were injured when the small sports car driven by Mrs. Kerns went out of control on Highway 24 near Dolores Drive. According to the highway patrol, Mrs. Kerns and John were thrown clear on the freeway when their car overturned. They escaped serious injury when oncoming traffic was able to stop in time.

Frances Ann Myer, 36, was injured and taken to Concord Community Hospital Saturday morning after apparently falling asleep at the wheel and striking a divider strip, signs and lamp posts on Highway 21, 375 feet south of the Oak Vale Road overcrossing, according to highway patrol officers.

Mrs. Myer, who lives at 3621 Walnut Street, Lafayette, is reported in satisfactory condition. An automobile driven by Wayne A. Anderson, 22, of 2118 Short Street in Walnut Creek, was struck from behind early Tuesday morning when he was attempting to make a left turn onto Cowell Road from the east-bound lane of Ygnacio Valley Road near Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Elva M. Pearson, 41, of Concord, driver of the other car, says she saw Anderson's left turn signal too late to stop because of the dense fog. Anderson of the same address, was injured and taken to Concord Community Hospital. A complaint was filed against Mrs. Pearson for driving at excessive speed.

Memorial Is Planned for Mrs. Vossler

Preliminary plans for a memorial fund for Mrs. Graylis Vossler were set up at a meeting Wednesday of the Lafayette Schools' Educational Council and the Teachers' Association in the district office.

Mrs. Vossler, who had been in the district first as a teacher and later as curriculum consultant for 14 years, was killed in an automobile accident Christmas Eve.

The Lafayette Teachers' Association will announce further details at a later date.

KQED Translator Now Ready for Local Viewers

Despite the lack of complete funds, educational station KQED (Channel 9) installed a translator atop Mt. Diablo with actual programming to begin next week.

The 100-watt translator was erected Wednesday and was tested yesterday.

Programming to properly equipped sets will begin sometime next week.

The translator takes the station's VHF signal and "translates" it to a UHF signal.

THIS WILL enable residents of the county to pick up the station whereas it is impossible at the present time in most parts of the county because of the interference caused by the Berkeley-Oakland hills.

Individual sets can have conversion equipment installed at a cost of $5 to $30, according to station officials.

Bill Kimball of Pleasant Hill, chairman of the public committee that was set up to raise the $15,000 needed to pay for the installation of the translator, said the drive is nearing the two-third mark.

BETWEEN $9000 and $10,000 has been raised so far he said.

When the drive was first started last spring, installation of the translator depended on reaching the $15,000 goal.

However, station officials changed their minds last week as the drive lagged.

Eight school districts could benefit from the translator. They are: Antioch, Pittsburg, Creek, is serving at the Naval Air Station, North Island, San Diego.

Mother, Daughter Die As Flames Demolish Cabin

Fire that leveled the $90,000 Montana ranch home of M. Pierce Milton of 4037 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, also claimed the lives of his wife, Mrs. Vivian Gamble Milton and their daughter, Julie, 4.

Flames that demolished the home brought a tragic end to the holiday outing of the prominent family. Milton had flown his wife and four children by previous marriages and Julie, their own daughter, in his private plane to the remote Helena ranch to spend the holidays.

THE FAMILY includes two more children who were not at the ranch. Milton was to have flown those at the ranch home Tuesday, but Mrs. Milton remained behind to care for Julie who had become ill with influenza. Milton left his wife and daughter at the ranch and flew the other children home for school.

Ranch foreman John Warehime told sheriff's deputies he stopped by the house late Tuesday night to inquire about Julie's condition, but saw Mrs. Milton asleep on a front room couch and decided not to wake her.

The fire raced through the two-story log structure sometime during the night and was not discovered until yesterday morning. All that remained standing in the smoldering ruins was the stone fireplace.

Sheriff-Coroner Dave Middlemas said the remains of the mother and daughter were recovered from beneath logs, some of them as much as two feet thick. Recovery efforts had to be delayed until late in the afternoon to allow the logs to cool.

A CORONER'S jury Middlemas impaneled at the scene adjudged the bones to be those of Mrs. Milton and Julie.

He said a diamond-studded wristwatch, which friends identified as belonging to Mrs. Milton, was found.

They were found on a burned bedspring at the north end of the lodge on Milton's Beartooth Ranch, located about 25 airline miles north of Helena but about 90 miles by road.

The coroner said he believed the mother and daughter were sleeping on the bed in a second-floor bedroom. The bed apparently fell into the basement when the floor collapsed.

MIDDLEMAS said he believed the fire began from either sparks from the fireplace or a cigarette left on the davenport. He theorized that the fire reached its peak about 4 a.m. Mrs. Milton's wristwatch was stopped at 4:20.

Milton was not immediately informed of the tragedy. His plane was fogbound Tuesday evening in Salt Lake City, where authorities made their first efforts at trying to reach him.

He is the son of the late Mrs. Josephine Johnson Milton, Piedmont socialite and clubwoman. Most of her estate, partially valued at more than $6 million, was left to him when she died in 1957.

MRS. MILTON was a graduate of the University of California where she was a beauty queen, and a member of the Oakland Junior League.

She was the daughter of Lynn H. Gamble, advertising director of the San Francisco Chronicle, and was formerly married to Alfred P. Otto, Jr.

The children who flew home with Milton were his sons by a previous marriage, William, 12, and James 9 and two of Mrs. Milton's children, Audrey Otto, 10, and Lynn Otto, 11.

Another of his children, Maxime, did not accompany the family on the trip, and neither did Mrs. Milton's other child, Alfred Otto III.

Mutnick Is Eying Congress

By POLITICUS

Harold Mutnick, Lafayette attorney, will announce soon his intention to run against U. S. Congressman John Baldwin whose 15th District includes all of Contra Costa County.

"I will be working on unifying my party (Democratic) and will run on the basis that we can really get things done as members of the Kennedy administration team," Mutnick has told friends.

Mutnick has been an attorney for 20 years, first as a member of the New York Bar Association. He later served the federal government, and came to California in 1954.

Mutnick is considered a strong party worker, and won the party primary in the assembly race a few years ago. He also has been a primary candidate for District 2 supervisor.

The congressional district formerly included both Contra Costa and Solano counties.

Fire Board Has Meeting

Members of the Orinda Fire District Commission met Thursday at the main fire station.

Clarence Betz, secretary-treasurer of the commission, gave a resume of AB 1355, which pertains to organization and formation of fire districts.

This Youngster Really Drives!

Take a young boy who is wild about racing, take a father who takes the time to be interested and then add a family of rooters and you'll probably come out a champion.

This is the case of Donald Janda, 11-year-old son of T-Bone, a familiar figure on the local scene. The Jandas have lived in Pleasant Hill for nine years and now reside at 178 Vivian Drive.

Donald, a sixth grader at Diablo Vista School, is a racing veteran of three years. Well known on the western circuit, Don has collected 70 trophies in his three years of racing.

T-Bone is well known, too—on the local eating circuit.

YOU MIGHT say that T-Bone's eating spots have become institutions on the local scene. A native of Minnesota, T-Bone has been in business for himself here for the past 13 years.

He first came to the area in 1949 when he worked with Milt Nelson at the Orinda Willows.

In 1951 he opened a mobile hot dog stand in Orinda. The truck didn't go anywhere, however. T-Bone bought a tent that covered the truck and called his little spot "The Poor Man's Stork Club."

It quickly became an Orinda landmark and favorite eating place for scores of area residents.

It was a "place to go" for youngsters and oldsters alike. As the area boomed, so did T-Bone's business.

Three years ago T-Bone opened a modern drive-in restaurant in Rheem.

HOWEVER, all connections with the wonderful past have not been severed. He still has a mobile unit for his products and is seen at many outdoor and sporting events that take place in the area during the year.

Donald is the second of four Janda children and the only boy.

The others, Tish, 7; Elizabeth, 8, and Silver, 14, plus T-Bone's wife, Vera, make up Donald's ready-made rooting section. The whole family packs up and goes to all of Don's races.

Two of the girls have tried their luck at driving the quarter midget racers, but neither one fared too well. A few years back, Silver "made the circuit," one summer, but she quickly outgrew the little racers. She had to give up the sport because her legs were too long.

RECENTLY the youngest Janda, Tisha, got the racing urge and tried out one of Donald's three cars on the Byron track that T-Bone and seven others founded.

Now Donald has two cars in working order and Tisha doesn't want to drive anymore. T-Bone said, "she'll never make a driver."

The Janda children, especially Don and Silver, got the racing bug in 1958 when King Norman ran his Playland in Concord.

The small racing cars that you could drive all by yourself over the short oval course was a big favorite with the Jandas. After this introduction to the quarter midget, T-Bone and son joined the San Jose Quarter Midget Club that fall.

THE FOLLOWING summer T-Bone and others formed a corporation and built their own track at Byron.

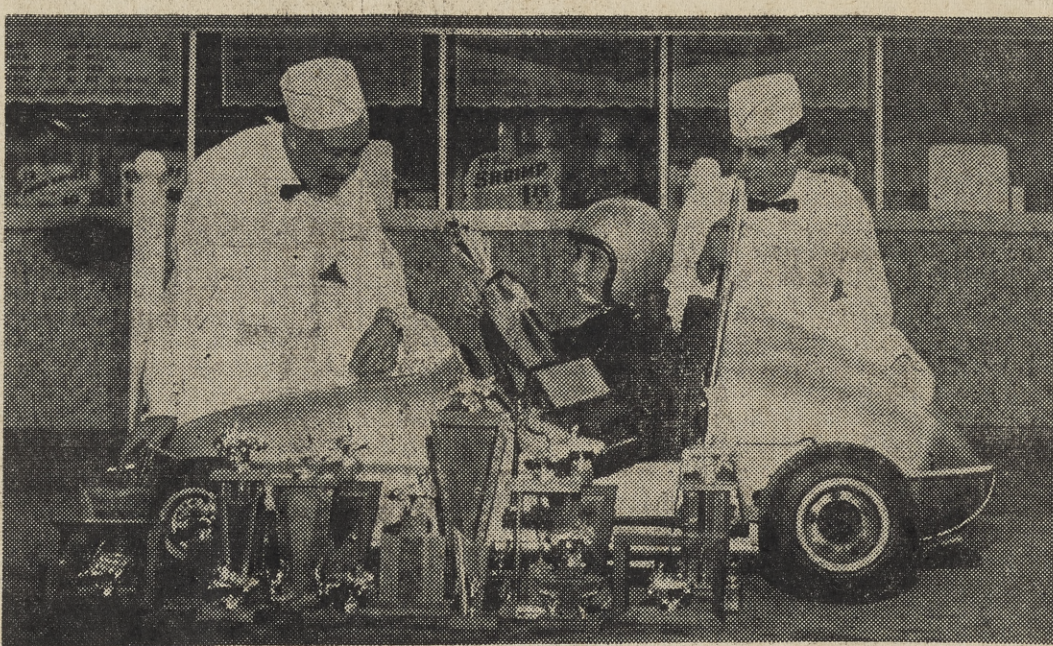

Things were moving swiftly now. The almost brand new sport of racing quarter midgets was snowballing all across the U.S. in 1959.

The racing "bug" started to bite hundreds of thousands of boys and girls from six to 15 and their parents.

For example, Don races every weekend from May 1 to Thanksgiving.

ARCTIC HARE

The Arctic hare has the largest feet of any member of the rabbit family, according to the National Automobile Club. The hind feet may measure as much as seven inches from the tip of the toenail to the back of the heel.

THIS CAR, THIS BOY have combined to win more than 90 trophies in the past three years on the quarter midget racing circuit. As his father, T-Bone looks on, Donald Janda, 11, holds one of his more cherished awards. T-Bone is the owner-operator of the well-known T-Bone Drive In Restaurant in Rheem. T-Bone's manager, Ray Letterl, is at the right. Sun photo by Bob Rush.

He has raced in Las Vegas, Tulsa, Fort Worth and throughout California. More than 400 cars were entered in the San Jose National this year.

Youngsters from every state in the West were in the competition. Also many young drivers from eastern states were on hand for the event.

This year's plans for Donald include a trip to the national race held in Milwaukee over July 4 weekend.

One of Donald's biggest prizes came in the 1960 national race at San Jose. Just failing to qualify for the main event (based on fastest time), Donald won the semi-main.

This year, he didn't fare as well. The engine in his car burned out.

However this is hardly unusual for cars who will hit a top speed of 60 miles per hour or better on the practically circular quarter-mile track.

T-Bone has had 10 different engines installed in Don's cars since he started racing. And the cost of racing has

Results of Testing to Be Analyzed

Results of the Lafayette School District student testing program will be discussed at the regular meeting Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the district office.

Don Williams, assistant superintendent for education, will make a presentation and analysis of tests which were run the last week in September, 1961.

Both the SRA (Science Research Associates) achievement scores of students in grades four through eight, and the mental maturity test scores from students in grades one, three, five and seven will be analyzed, according to Williams.

Also on the board's agenda are two opinions requested earlier by the district attorney—one on the regulation regarding the questioning of school children by law enforcement officials—the other, an answer to the Lafayette Disaster Survival Committee's request to consider construction of bomb shelters on school property.

Plans for the addition to Merriewood School, five classrooms and an instructional room, will be reviewed, and the contract with Wallace Webb for the construction of Quandt School will be presented to trustees for their signatures.

It is expected that Superintendent Ellis will be authorized to fill the vacancy caused by death of Mrs. Graylis Vossler, curriculum consultant.

Worried About Your Children and Sidewalks? Here Is a Solution

Do you worry about your children walking to and from school? Do you worry about them on their way to the school bus stop? Do you worry because they have to walk practically on a much-traveled road where the visibility is poor?

Then perhaps one solution to your problem would be to take action as did the people of Happy Valley in Lafayette—or the Marchant development in Reliez Valley.

Happy Valley residents, long concerned with the fact that their youngsters had to walk along heavily traveled Happy Valley Road, came up with a community solution to the problem.

TWO YEARS ago the Happy Valley Improvement Association came up with the idea of constructing a crushed rock all-weather walkway the entire three and a half mile length of the valley. That walkway is nearly complete now.

Committees were formed to look into financial, design, construction, insurance and legal matters. The first money came from the Happy Valley Improvement Association, the Happy Valley School Parents Club, and later, from individual donations.

AT FIRST work was done on a volunteer basis, but it proved to be too much. College students were hired to do the routine work for a while, and recently a landscape contractor was retained to do the work with his crews in slack times.

The results, however, as you can see from the accompanying picture, are both esthetically acceptable and efficient from the safety point of view.

This, however, was not accomplished overnight. It required two years of work and planning, and whole-hearted community cooperation.

It did prove something, however. It can be done.

Would your area be interested in it?

If you are interested, and would like more details on how the project was carried out in Happy Valley, contact Robert Kahn of the Happy Valley Improvement Association.

DOES THIS PICTURE look familiar? If so, you will probably recognize it as having run in last week's Sun. There is a reason for running it again, however. Last week it accompanied a feature story on the walkways being installed in Happy Valley by the local residents. This is one solution to a difficult situation which is facing nearly every area of the county. We are re-running the picture, along with the accompanying editorial, in the hope that this might provide a solution to a similar problem in your area.

A Time for Thinking...

It is customary, in some circles, to make resolutions come New Year's Eve.

And, like so many things that are merely customary, they are probably broken ere one week has gone by.

But perhaps, rather than to resolve, the beginning of a new year is a time to take a good look at the situation in our community, our county, and to try and gain a real understanding of this place which we have chosen for our homes.

IT IS, perhaps, a good time to compare what our community has done in comparison to our next door neighbor. It is a chance to ask ourselves a few questions: Where is my community heading? Do I like the direction it is taking? Can I do anything to help it along? Do I have sufficient understanding of its problems and virtues?

All of our communities have some problems in common—proper zoning for example. In some cases, such as Pleasant Hill and Orinda, this has been more of a problem than it has in other communities, such as Walnut Creek. But all our communities do share this problem to some degree.

Orinda has protected itself as best it can through the operation of a strong and effective Orinda Association. But it takes constant watchfulness and much hard work on the part of Orinda residents.

Walnut Creek, of course, tries to solve the problem through the efforts of a hard-working planning commission.

HOW ARE SOME of our communities trying to solve their problems? Pleasant Hill has sought an answer in incorporation. It is far too early to tell yet just how effective this will be, but it is a step forward on the part of the community.

Would the same answer help your community? Lafayette is considering the incorporation of the business area in an effort to solve some of its more vexing problems and, in turn, to help the community. Much hard work is, also being done to beautify Lafayette and bring the business area up to the standards of the lovely surrounding residential sections.

What is the place of the individual in this? What can each of us do to make our area, our community, our county a better place in which to live. What can we do to help keep taxes in line—to provide the best education for our children—to provide the services that we want?

In each of our communities there are residents who work long and hard for the community. They serve on school boards, city councils, fire boards, beautification committees and countless other groups dedicated to the community.

We might ask ourselves, as the New Year gets under way, if perhaps we cannot help our community by actively serving on some group which can especially use our talents.

But then again, there are those of us who are not the "committee" type. What can we do to help?

ONE THING for sure. We can try to gain a better understanding of the problems and issues at stake so that we can vote or decide intelligently when the time comes.

This can include everything from unification of our local school districts, to building a TV translator on Mt. Diablo to voting in the next general election.

But the better informed we are as residents, the better able to serve our community we will be.

And finally, we might consider any special talents that we possess. Maybe we're good at little theater work, or can work with retarded children...

Any of these efforts also go to make our community a better place for us and our children.

Now is the time for thinking.

The Holiday Spirit.....

By GEORGE COLBURN

If you're ever tempted to travel over the Holidays—DON'T.

All the stories you've probably read in the newspapers concerning same are all true. I speak from experience. It's a real mess.

I was inflicted with the Christmas Spirit about three days before the big day. (It's so nice to be home for the holidays.)

I managed to get reservations and so off I went, bursting with the proper spirit.

BECAUSE of our infamous "hump" I miscalculated travel time to the airport. By the time I had purchased my ticket, checked my baggage and raced to the furthest gate possible, it was zero hour—or so all the passengers thought.

However, because of the hectic pace of the rush season, somebody in the kitchen crew had forgotten our flight. The voice over the loud speaker announced a 20 minute delay for above reason.

In a few minutes, it's uncomfortably hot in the already-locked-up plane. It gets hotter... nobody knows why, but the sweat is really dripping.

The boys with the chow arrive. In a few minutes we're off the ground. I'm a little dubious (it's my first flight), but we make it.

ONCE off the ground, the voice speaks again. (Popular opinion makes you believe it's the pilot speaking, but how the heck can you be sure.)

Anyway, the voice states the destination as Portland... there's a long pause, then it adds "Portland, Oregon." (I wonder if he's sure where he's going.)

The voice goes on in an incoherent way... "if there's anyone on this flight who wants to go to Los Angeles, Boston, New York or any place but Portland, you've got problems."

I look out the window to make sure the plane is flying in a straight line.

The voice then apologizes for the delay in taking off and the stuffiness of the cabin. The reason the heat got worse instead of better, it states, is because when an air conditioning unit was called for, the maintenance crew hitched it up to the heating duct instead of the cooling one. (Oh well, it's comfortable now.)

Because of the rush, dinner will consist of a sandwich. No complete dinners were available. Oh, well, I'd wait 20 minutes for a sandwich any day.

The "dinner" turns out to be one half of a small sandwich per customer. And when they get to me in the last seat... That's right, they run out.

OH WELL, I can always drink. "What's that." Yep, the drinks were forgotten as well. This makes for many irritated customers, but everyone is told they can have two drinks on the airline at the Portland Airport because of this unfortunate mistake.

Things get better. It's a nice flight... just like sitting in an easy chair... troubles are forgotten and the trip is soon over.

Now all you think about is a couple of stiff doubles courtesy of the airline. In fact, it seems that just about everyone is thinking the same thing.

A MAD rush for the cocktail lounge. What's that shouting? What's the bartender saying?

We're crazy? Someone told a big fib? It's not true?

If you want to fly home, pick somebody else's birthday for the occasion. For example: Beethoven's.

Letters to The Editor

SUN POLICY

Dear Editor:

As a newcomer to Orinda I have been fascinated by your local paper's strangely belligerent attitude. You seem to be violently vocal about unification, for instance. Why, I wonder? Since your editorial on Dr. McCunn's beliefs your viewpoint becomes clearer to me.

Evidently to you, anti-communism and "Operation Abolition" are strictly "conservative" enthusiasms. I should be very much more concerned about Dr. McCunn if he came out in support of the HUAC riots or of communism!

By what self-appointed right does The Sun decide that the superintendent of our junior college must hold liberal views or else our taxpayers should protest?

Who are you to say that Contra Costa citizens must not be what you call conservative? Has it become wrong to be conservative?

I always felt it was quite respectable.

J. KELLEY

(Ed. Note: The point of the editorial was this. Nobody questions the right of Dr. McCunn to hold any beliefs he wishes. But how do these beliefs affect his position? For example, no member of The Sun editorial staff may join a school board or any other board of trustees, because then that person would be unable to report the actions of the board in an unbiased manner.

Also, you will note if you re-read the editorial, that the question was asked—is it right for a person with relatively extreme beliefs on EITHER side—liberal or conservative—to hold such a job?

Furthermore, we suggested that this is a matter for the junior college district trustees to determine, not The Sun.)

SUN POLICY

Dear Editor:

You ask if Dr. McCunn's professional position limits his right to express his beliefs.

Well, what I would like to know is how much should a newspaper editor's beliefs be allowed to color his paper?

Obviously, The Sun is for unification, against the House Un-American Activities Committee, and considers it dangerous to support lectures on anti-communism, and is against Dr. McCunn.

Does this mean you are for communism, and against parents having a say in their school affairs or their local school boards?

Furthermore, since when is a "conservative" a danger to students or anyone? Evidently you think you speak for the citizens of Contra Costa.

Sorry—you seem to stand for everything I deplore. I'm not a bit afraid of Dr. McCunn. I'm scared to death of the lethal damage your editorials can do.

KAY BRANDT

(Ed. Note: True, The Sun is for unification... we have editorially taken exactly the same position as all five elementary district boards of trustees have taken. The only group which does not agree with our unification stand is the high school district.)

SUN POLICY

Dear Editor:

It would be interesting to have an open statement from you—either editorial page or front page—as to where you stand.

Are you out-and-out pink—or just "bleeding heart" liberal?

Why don't you come out and show your true colors? If your editorial treatment of Dr. McCunn's position is symbolic of your convictions—you are way too far LEFT for me! I have more respect for the People's World than I have for you fence straddlers.

JOLIN McCUNN (Ed. Note: What fence?)

BABY CONTEST

I think your contests are most unfair.

On December 22, 1961, you announced a contest for the first baby born in 1962.

I suspect that for most of your readers this isn't sufficient notice to permit them to participate on an every-body-is-equal basis.

Where is the Sun's sense of fair play?

ROBERT KAHN

(Ed. Note: The Sun's apologies to reader Kahn and any other residents who were inconvenienced. We are planning to hold a similar contest in 1963 for those residents who would like to consider an entry.)

An Invitation for You To Give Us the Works

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

DEAR SUN READER:

Please give us hell any time you feel like it. As a newspaper, The Sun expects criticism. We not only expect it, we welcome it.

Today, for example, you'll find three letters very critical of a recent editorial. This editorial did not question the right of Drummond McCunn, as an individual, to commend the John Birch Society. The editorial raised the question of whether McCunn should do this since he is superintendent of the Contra Costa Junior College District. We said that the District Board should at least take a look at the situation.

Get back to the point

But today let's not debate this particular issue. Three people wrote post cards on the same day criticizing our position.

Good! We are pleased they took the trouble to make their views known. And we are pleased to print their letters-to-the-editor.

We certainly don't expect you, as a reader, to agree with each of our editorials. There are other times when we know that even a majority of our readers will not agree with us. But we are not conducting a popularity contest.

Popular or unpopular?

Before we decide upon an editorial position, we do not analyze whether this is going to be a popular or unpopular position with our readers. We try to decide an issue on its merits.

The same holds true at election time, when we have the very tough job of recommending candidates.

What we do...

If a community problem is in the news, we cover it in the news columns. We try to give both sides of the story. We try to go beyond the news and explain the background and, finally, we take an editorial position on the problem.

You may agree with us; you may disagree. We may be right; we may be wrong. Or there may not be a 100 per cent right or a 100 per cent wrong.

We know that our readers are intelligent people. They can analyze the facts and study our editorial position. In the final analysis, the reader must make up his own mind.

We do hope you will on occasion let us know your reactions. We welcome your comments and suggestions.

To repeat: Give us hell if you feel like it.

Letters to The Editor

CONSERVATIVES

Dear Editor:

I have read with interest your editorial of last week in which you point out Dr. Drummond McCunn as a conservative and you raise the question in the minds of our Diablo Valley College trustees as to whether we should have a conservative in such a position.

Thank God we still have some conservatives who will come out and take a stand for the conservative outlook.

EVER SINCE Roosevelt moved into the White House we have been gutted with the flabbiness of the liberal and his tolerance of all kinds of crackpot ideologies.

When the Democrats moved out and the Republicans moved in, the Republicans aped the Democrats. The parties became almost identical.

With the fantastic gains of communism, the flight of the dollar and the rough business competition offered by Asia and Europe, Americans have finally begun to come to their senses.

Barry Goldwater is doing a vigorous job in the interest of common sense conservatism. The Young Republicans are showing some conservative vigor.

COLLEGE students all over the nation are suddenly seeing some of the phony liberalism for what it really is and they are organizing to spur the conservative cause.

Our colleges and high schools are loaded with the liberal element. If the liberal means what he says when he says "We must be tolerant," then it follows that we should have some healthy debates and hear the side of the conservative.

Let's keep a strong element of conservatism in our public school system.

Supper Party Honors Deb

Winter Ball deb Sally Holabird, gowned in flowered chiffon in shades of green and blue, greeted guests with her parents at a recent champagne supper in the Evans Holabird home on Via Descansada in Orinda.

The gay supper party was a finale to the round of debutante affairs honoring the 20 young women presented at this season's Winter Ball.

The rustic home was decorated for the party in appropriate holiday motif, with emphasis on masses of red roses among pine boughs placed at intervals through the house, and with red roses forming the buffet centerpiece.

More than 150 invitations were issued, including those to Miss Holabird's friends at Miramonte High School and the 20 debbs and their dates.

The honoree carried a nosegay of white orchids with a touch of blue highlighting her dress. Mrs. Holabird wore a blue Italian silk with matching slippers.

A freshman at Bradford Junior College in Massachusetts, the debutante will reurn this week.

Her escort at the Winter Ball, Kurt Lundblad, will return to the University of Colorado where he is a sophomore.

A SPRING WEDDING is planned by Miss Sherine Gidley of Lafayette and Robert L. Waters, professional football quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers. Their engagement was announced at a recent cocktail party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gidley, 3665 West Road, Lafayette.

Eve Thomas Works to Promote New Hospital

By HELEN SCHARMER

A fresh look at the mid-Contra Costa area and a near tragedy have caused Eve Thomas to devote much of her spare time over the last three years to John Muir Hospital projects.

Eve (Mrs. Frank Thomas) says she and her husband were becoming increasingly concerned about hospital facilities here because of their growing family in a rapidly expanding community, before they left for a stay in the Northwest five years ago.

On their return, Eve told us, they saw this area with entirely new eyes.

"In our five years' residence in the Walnut Creek area the growing pains of the community appeared to be gradual.

"After being away for a while and returning with a bigger family, we realized the county's growing pains had become acute." (The Walnut Creek area is considered fifth in hospital needs in the state of California.)

"This was made apparent when we almost lost our little girl. Our distance from Children's Hospital in an emergency almost cost us her life."

She continued, "Since then I have devoted most of my volunteer time to my job as public relations chairman for the John Muir Hospital Auxiliary."

She is a member of the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church and of the Contra Costa County Dental Auxiliary.

We caught Mrs. Thomas for an interview as she had just returned from a holiday at their cabin in Squaw Valley with Doctor Thomas and their four children—Debbie, Bruce, Bradley and little Marianne, who is just three years old.

After taking time out for a luncheon to find out how the fund drive for the hospital was going, she was able to give us first-hand news of the progress of the various guilds.

Newer and bigger plans for the hospital have caused the guilds to double their efforts, Mrs. Thomas says. The auxiliary now has raised at least half its $75,000 commitment toward the grand total needed—$282,000 before construction can begin.

Mrs. Thomas, who is a member of Sierra Guild, hastened to credit the many auxiliary members for their fine work.

The Thomas family have recently moved to a new contemporary home at 1041 Adrienne Drive in Alamo, where he is active with Indian Guides. Eve, a Canadian by birth, worked with the Free Press Herald in Ontario at one time.

Her writing inclinations are given expression in an annual Christmas play presented by the children as a family project.

This holiday season the play's setting was their Squaw Valley cabin before a roaring fire.

Smith of Lafayette and William Danska of Orinda, both members of the Cardinal Unit, will coordinate the showing.

The terrace welcomes group reservations for parties or club meetings. Facilities are available for bridge or meetings until 4 p.m.

The tearoom opens at 10 a.m. daily except Sunday for coffee. Luncheon is served from noon until 2 p.m. Reservations are not necessary, but they are advisable for the Monday fashion show luncheon. They may be obtained by calling YE 5-0121.

Parties, Ski Trips End; Homework Faces Teens

By KITTY MIKA AND ANN LINCOLN

The old year has been left behind, and bright new 1962 is before us. New Year's Eve was a night of celebration for Orinda teens with parties lasting into the early morning hours.

Judy and Jim Campbell and Bob and Ginny Hecocks had a party at the Campbells' apartment in Lafayette. All the girls kept peeping in on the Hecocks' two-month-old son.

Some of the couples who were there were Dave and Linda Rhoda, Rollin Mack and Sue Nattress, Corbett Kroll and Linda Barges, Vol Howard and his date, Jim Carter and Marjorie Hollidge, Dick Miller and Wendy Wilcox, and Sharon Nielsen and Bob Pothier. The couples were all watching Dance Party at the midnight hour.

ANOTHER New Year's celebration was held at the home of Carol Carpenter. Among those dancing and talking were Carol Carpenter and Pete Lamb, Candy Hackler and Kieth St. Clair, Roxie Smith and Bob Williams, Wendy Minor and Jim Lewis, Sue Fernsten and Dean Hilger, Jane White and Dave Parish, and Karen Stafford and John Lacky.

An open house at the home of Andy DeGrassi drew many alumni and Miramonte seniors. Doing the twist and passing out New Year's kisses seemed to be tops on the night's agenda.

Some of the many enjoying themselves to the fullest were Andy and Sheri Croci, Mary Moorehead and Bob Welch, Sally Holabird and Curt Lundblad, Tina Cole and Rick Layne, Dwight Thompson and Ginny, Pam Pearson and John Rielly, and Hester Harris and Mickey Kazar.

Bill Cooper's home was the site of another New Year's celebration. Chrissy Voll and Bill, Dough Dermit and Kathy Adams, Karen Nattress and Dick Blair, Barbie Brush and Clint DeWitt, and Ron Maccurrio and Karen Call were among the lower classmen there.

RAY HAYWOOD had quite a party, too. Mike McQuaid and Jackie Villata, Brad Peter and Bonnie Kent, Bruce Nickerson and Linda Sears and Rich Adair and Sherry Wilson were some of the many sharing New Year's kisses.

Brian Traynor had a party that started late and lasted into the morning hours.

Among those coming and going all night long were Chris Felchlin and Linda Rice, Mike Smyth and Betsy Blossom, Jim Rose and Brenda Harwell, Roger Howard and Pat Finn, and Rich Bedayn and Dick Sutcliffe.

The wonderful Christmas vacation seemed to fly by, and now everyone is back to the same old routine—school every day and homework every night, but the thoughts of their good times over the vacation are still uppermost in their minds.

Nancy Bregar spent the week after Xmas in Los Angeles where she finally got to see her Jerry.

STEVE MILLER came back from Hawaii about 20 shades darker than normal. He had a fabulous time surfing, water skiing and just enjoying the heat, while everyone in good ole Orinda stumbled through the fog.

Sharon Nielsen and Pat Kelly spent four days skiing at Heavenly Valley. The altitude was just a little too much for Sharon—she passed out twice. When they skied at Edelweiss, Pat was flabbergasted by the rocks. She finally took her skis off and walked down the last part of the hill.

Also skiing at Heavenly were Pete Parrish and Jake Jacobson. Roger McCosker, Greg Peterson, and Kip Nelson were skiing at Heavenly and Squaw, in fact, they were seen from one end of the lake to the other.

The new ski area, Alpine Meadows, opened in December, and many Orindans found it a great place to ski. Betsy Blossom, Sherry Odenthal, Carol Gilmore, Joyce Odenthal, Julie Noller, Pete Read, and Carol Goldsmith were some of the many who escaped the long lines at Squaw and found good snow at Alpine Meadows.

SQUAW, nevertheless, was as crowded as ever. Even with rocks sticking up all over, and fairly icy snow, the people were there in mobs. Dick Miller, Rollin Mack, Kent Miller, John Lacky and Mike LaPlant all rented a room in Olympic Village.

Nancy Englehard and Carolyn Coburn came over from Nancy's home on the Nevada side and skied in the Valley. Holly Borden and her Swedish sister were also enjoying the snow at Squaw.

DVC Seeks First League Win Tonight at Cabrillo

Diablo Valley College started the Coast Conference season on a losing note Tuesday night, losing to Foothill College, 48-47, at Mountain View.

Tonight at Watsonville, the Viking cagers will try to even their record at the expense of Cabrillo College. The Vikes dumped Cabrillo, 50-41, in the Coast Conference tournament last month.

In the game Tuesday, the Vikings held a 25-21 lead at half-time.

Foothill had dumped the DVC team, 73-62, in the CC tourney semifinals.

THE LOSS was the Vikings' fourth in 12 games. They opened the season with five straight wins.

Following tonight's game, the Vikings are idle until next weekend.

They host Monterey Peninsula College on Friday night and then Hartnell College is the visitor on Saturday night.

Tom Nichols paced DVC against Foothill with 13 points. Sam Coston had 10 points and Rex Bankhead finished with seven.

Jack Gleason and Gary Chiotti each had 14 for Foothill.

DVC HIT on 20 of 40 shots from the floor for a good .50 per cent, but they apparently did not shoot enough. Foothill took 51 shots, hitting on 19 of them for 36 per cent.

Foothill hit 10 of 13 free throws while DVC scored on seven of eight charity tosses.

In games played last week, DVC won one and lost one.

The Vikings blasted Contra Costa College, its sister school in San Pablo, 95-58.

It was the biggest offensive show of the season for Diablo Valley and its second win over CCC.

Dick Cole and Sam Coston each had 13 points to pace the Vikings as coach Charles Karp cleared his bench with 12 players getting in the scoring act.

Last Friday night, College of San Mateo became the first team to defeat the Vikings on their home court, 55-45.

Gary Gaskill scored eight straight points in final two minutes to lift San Mateo past the Vikings who trailed by only two points at the time. He finished with 20 points.

Nichols had 13 for DVC while Bankhead had 10.

Piedmont Squeezes by San Ramon In Foothill Loop Opener, 47-44

San Ramon, at full strength for the first time since the beginning of the season, gave Piedmont a real scare before bowing, 47-44, at Piedmont Tuesday afternoon.

The Clan is rated as one of the top teams in the Foothill League this season.

It was the opening league game for both teams.

Despite losing, San Ramon served notice on the rest of the Foothill League that it will be a tough team to deal with in the remaining games.

Last season the Wolves were 1-14 in league play.

Guard Bob Metz paced the Wolves with 17 points. It was Metz' first appearance since an appendicitis attack hospitalized him a month ago.

FORWARD Don Rice, who missed the last two games because of the flu, contributed 15 points to the San Ramon cause.

However, it was Rick Prestwood, Piedmont's flashy guard, who took game honors with 18 points.

In a nip and tuck first half, San Ramon held a 10-9 first quarter lead and a 20-19 edge at the intermission.

After the score was knotted twice in the third quarter, Piedmont moved out in front to stay, although they never got out of sight.

THE CLAN outscored their visitors, 19-13, in the third quarter and it was the only time they could do so.

However, they managed to hold onto their five-point lead, 38-33, lead throughout the fourth quarter although the Wolves scored 11 points to their nine.

San Ramon's high-scoring center, Jim Howell, was held to two baskets and two free throws which helped the Clan cause tremendously.

Bob Foskett and Steve Hogan contributed nine and eight points for Piedmont respectively.

San Ramon has now lost four in a row for a 2-5 record. Piedmont is 4-3.

Oak Grove Manor Will Get New Water Supply

The Contra Costa County Water District Treated Division acquired 182 new customer connections Friday when the district's purchase of Oak Grove Water Company became effective.

The purchase price was $95,000. The transaction was completed at offices of California Pacific Title Company, Martinez.

"Residents of Oak Grove Manor, which the private water company has been serving since 1955, will continue to be billed at the company's present rates by the district," according to Robert W. Johnston, manager of the treated water division.

"When the Oak Grove system is physically connected with the district system, Oak Grove Manor residents will receive better quality water and the district's rate schedule will be placed in effect. At present the Oak Grove system is supplied by wells."

The purchase agreement was signed by Ralph Bollman, president of the board of directors of Contra Costa County Water District and James A. Ganley, president and owner of Oak Grove Water Company.

The transaction was approved this week by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The Oak Grove system, for which the district paid $95,000, would cost $193,000 to duplicate today. It has a depreciation cost value of $125,000.

Acquisition of the Oak Grove system is a major step toward extending the district's service area into Ygnacio Valley. The end result is expected to be more development in Ygnacio Valley and additional revenues for the district, according to Johnston.

BOB NICHOLS of Las Lomas is one of the players to watch in this year's Foothill League race. The 6-3 center, an all-league selection as a junior last year, is the main reason Las Lomas is considered a threat for the FAL title they captured a year ago. He scored 22 points in the league opener against Alhambra Tuesday after racking up 61 points in three games at the Anderson tourney. Apparently he is ready for a banner year.

The Ski Line . . .

Ski Conditions Leave a Lot to Be Desired Again

By HEC HANCOCK

One of the first things a skier must learn is, that if he is to be at least reasonably happy, he must learn to be philosophical. He must learn patience, perseverance and wisdom to deal with the trials and tribulations of the slopes. He must develop particular skills to savor the speed and sense of flight of high-speed skiing.

But to cope with the frustrations wrought by weather and snow conditions he must become the most philosophical of people. He soon learns that if he is to wait for what he considers ideal conditions, he would get blessed little skiing.

It quickly becomes obvious that if he is to enjoy himself, he must learn to ski all types of snow conditions, i.e. powder, corn, fresh wet snow, and ice. He has to be able to adjust to these conditions on any type of slope or trail.

These are, by and large, physical problems. Tangible and real, they can be confronted.

The real terror is waiting for the first snowfall. The great despair is watching the warm rain dissolve the beautiful pack. The great worry is waiting for the snow pack to grow.

For the fourth straight year, we go into January with only a thin coat of ice to cavort on. In view of the past three years, we can't count on anything. We can only hope that a good deep snow pack will develop, but it grows late.

We can only hope for the best and, in the interim, make the best of what we have.

All major areas report that while the pack isn't plentiful, it still remains "skiable."

Conditions at many of the areas are icy, with a real hard pack the best that can be offered.

Current reports indicate that good skiing is to be had at Sugar Bowl, Donner Ski Ranch and the Echo Summit ski area.

However, the big news comes from the newly opened Alpine Meadows.

Opened for operations for the first time over the New Year's weekend, Alpine played host to more than 7000 skiers. When you consider that this number included many repeaters during the three days, it is a tremendous endorsement of the slopes, as only the lifts are in operation.

The area has been described as having the finest and most varied ski slopes in America, and not without justification.

The new Riblet double chair lift is capable of handling 900 skiers an hour, and the waits in line were kept to a minimum.

The snow, measuring from 20 inches at the bottom of the lift to 70 inches in the bowls, ranged from hard pack to some loose powder. A great contrast the ice that predominates the Sierra these days.

Luggi Foeger, long one of the foremost skiers on the California scene, heads the ski school. Jim Baker, well known to Bay area skiers, is in charge of the ski patrol. Eric Johnson, well-known Eastbay skier, is handling the publicity. Tim Sullivan, the genial Irishman from Berkeley, a vet of the Olympic wars, is the general manager.

One word of caution, however, should be forthcoming. The area is new and, in fact, still under construction. The lodge will not be completed until mid-January. Consequently, nothing can be served in the way of food or refreshment, so those planning to ski here must plan accordingly.

Anyone that remembers when such ski areas as Donner Ski Ranch, Squaw Valley, Heavenly Valley and Dodge Ridge made their initial debuts, there were certain inconveniences to be endured until the bugs were worked out. In view of the promise of great skiing that Alpine Meadows affords, it will be well worth waiting for.

St. Mary's Opens League Play at Pacific Saturday

St. Mary's opens West Coast Athletic Conference play tomorrow in Stockton against the University of Pacific.

The Gaels then travel to San Jose Monday night for another league battle.

Following Monday's game, St. Mary's is idle until February 1 because of final exams.

The Gaels, with a 5-5 record to date, showed they will be in the running for the league title in last week's WCAC holiday tournament at the University of San Francisco.

THE GAELS finished second to powerful Santa Clara, but it took a last-ditch rally by the Broncos to subdue the scrappy Moraga quintet, 48-42.

Loyola, with most of last year's WCAC championship squad back for another season, were defeated decisively by the Gaels in the second round, 69-55.

The Los Angeles team won the WCAC crown last season and a berth in the NCAA regional tournament with a 10-2 mark. St. Mary's and Santa Clara tied for second place with 8-4 records.

ST. MARY'S opened tourney play last Wednesday night with a 48-46 win over San Jose State when guard Tom Sheridan hit a jump shot with the final second ticking off the clock.

The Gaels followed that win with an unusually easy semifinal triumph over Loyola as four starters scored in double figures.

Steve Gray was high point man with 18, Hamilton Holmes had 14, Sheridan had 15 and Kit Ruona, 12.

In the championship game Saturday night, Santa Clara rallied for 10 straight points in the closing minutes to overtake St. Mary's.

St. Mary's held a seven-point, 38-31, lead late in the game but the Broncos spurred to take the lead with 4:58 to play and were never headed thereafter.

AFTER getting the ball back, the Gaels went into a successful stall and picked up more points as the Gaels were forced to foul. The Broncos held Gray scoreless in the second half, limiting him to two shots.

Gray scored 13 points in the first half to stake St. Mary's to a 23-22 lead after the Gaels had fallen seven points behind early in the half.

Gray's total was tops for both teams.

Board of directors members being carried over for another term are Dean McDowell, Jack Davis and Judge Lewis Lercera.

Dons vs. Clan in Foothill Feature

Miramonte Edges Nichols, Inman, Rakow Trojans, 32-24

Miramonte posted its third straight win after three opening defeats by squeezing past Del Valle in the Foothill League opener for both teams Tuesday, 32-24, on the Trojan's home court.

The loss was Del Valle's fourth in five games and its third straight.

Both teams were ice cold from the floor through most of the game. Del Valle managed only three field goals in the first half while the Matadors had five.

Miramonte held a 7-5 first quarter lead, then increased it to 13-8 at the half.

The Matadors looked like they would make a rout of it in the third quarter by scoring eight straight points while holding the Trojans scoreless.

DOWN 21-8 Del Valle switched into a pressing defense that seemed to upset Miramonte.

With Mal Cameron and Bob Kovats providing the scoring punch, the Trojans cut Miramonte's big lead to three points, 23-20, by outscoring the visitors, 12-2, in the final minutes of the quarter.

Neither team could find the range in the fourth quarter as both sides played cautious ball, looking for that one good shot.

WITH THREE minutes to play, the score was still 23-20. After a Del Valle shot missed, Miramonte rebounded and went into a stall pattern.

The Mats then put the game on ice by sinking three of four free throws, as Del Valle fouled trying to get the ball.

The Mats then added three quick two-pointers in the final seconds.

Mike McQuaid paced Miramonte with 12 points on five baskets and two free throws.

Bruce Nickerson and Ron Kay each had six points.

Nichols, Inman, Rakow Pace Las Lomas Triumph

Las Lomas overcame 23 Alhambra points in the seconds displayed some uncanny shooting ability for eight minutes.

Paced by Hammett's nine points, the Bulldogs outscored Las Lomas, 23-7, to grab a 31-24 halftime lead.

The Bulldogs' scoring touch didn't last, however, and the Knights got back in the swing of things in the third quarter, outscoring the visitors, 19-7, for a 43-38 lead going into the final eight minutes.

LAS LOMAS forward Rick Inman and guard Gordon Rakow starting his first game, paced the third quarter spurt. Inman had seven points and Rakow had six.

The fourth quarter was a repetition of the first and third quarters as the Knights won going away from the sputtering Martinez quintet.

Inman finished with 15 points and Rakow, scoring five baskets in the second half, finished with 11 points.

Hammett, who hit nine field goals and eight free throws, had no help from his teammates. He was the only Alhambra player in double figures.

The win was the fourth in seven starts for Las Lomas. Alhambra is now 2-3, having lost the last three in a row.

Knights Bid for Second Win Tonight at Del Valle

Acalanes and Piedmont, two teams considered championship material, battle tonight in Lafayette in the feature game of the Foothill League schedule.

A B game at 7 p.m. precedes the varsity contest. In other Foothill League games tonight, Las Lomas is after win No. 2 at Del Valle and San Ramon travels to Martinez to meet Alhambra.

In the opening round of games played Tuesday afternoon, Piedmont just managed to outlast San Ramon, 47-44.

Acalanes, with a 3-1 non-league record, drew a bye on the opening date.

All varsity games tonight begin at approximately 8:15 p.m. In the only non-league game tonight featuring local teams, Miramonte visits Pleasant Hill seeking its fourth straight win.

The Rams, with a 2-3 non-league record, opens league play in the Contra Costa Division Tuesday. The Mats are 3-3, opening FAL play with a 32-24 win over Del Valle.

The Rams travel to Clayton Valley for their league opener Tuesday afternoon.

College Park also opens its league season Tuesday, hosting CCD defending champion Pittsburg.

In the CCD, a junior varsity contest at 3:30 p.m. precedes the afternoon varsity games. The varsity games start at approximately 5 p.m.

Tuesday afternoon in the Foothill League, Las Lomas invades Miramonte's homegrounds in the top game.

Other games include Acalanes and Del Valle at San Ramon.

Varsity games on Tuesday in the FAL begin at 3:30 p.m. They are followed by a B game.

On the basis of non-league games and the three games played last Tuesday, Las Lomas appears to be a solid contender for the title they won last year.

However, it appears as if the race will be an interesting one with all teams in the loop liable to pull upsets anywhere along the route.

Del Valle seems to be the weakest team in the league, but could give anyone trouble on a given day.

Miramonte had its problems with the Trojans on Tuesday before winning out in the last quarter.

PLEASANT HILL OFFICE OPENS JANUARY 12

2200 CONTRA COSTA HIGHWAY

NEXT TO PAYLESS MARKET

THIS BEAUTIFUL structure will house, eventually, the sanctuary at the Jewish Community Center, the Rabbi's study, a kitchen and social hall. The building will be clearly visible from Mt. Diablo

Boulevard as you travel west through Lafayette. It will be located on the present Jewish Community Center property.

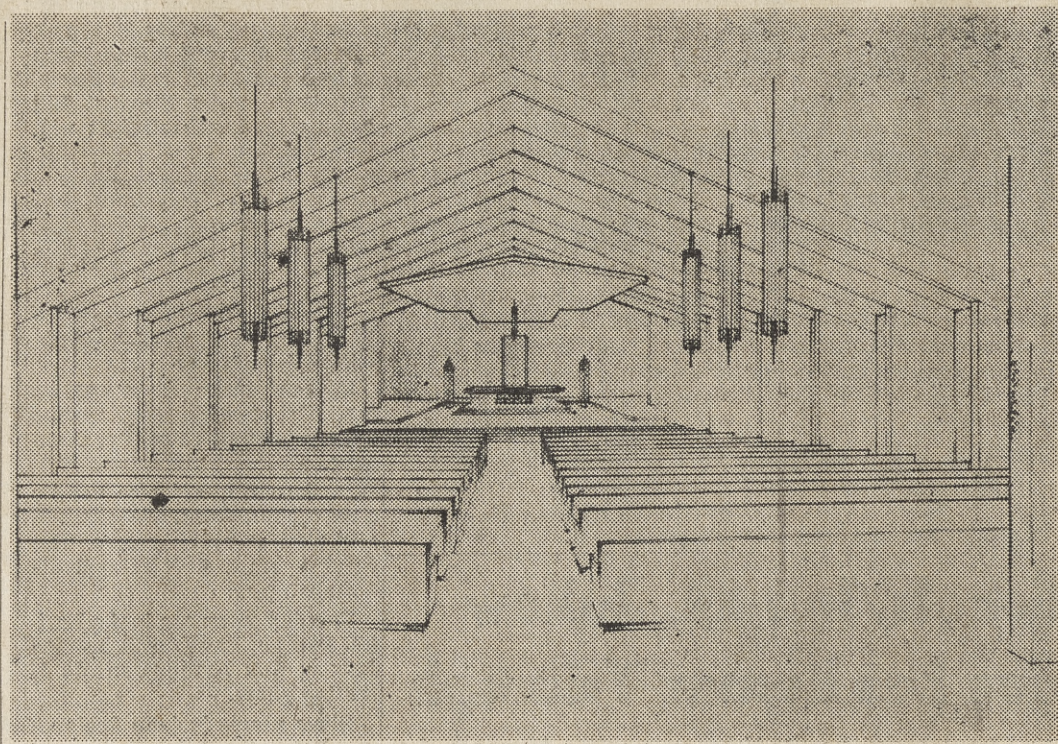

Jewish Center Planning New Sanctuary

Over 300 people turned out recently for a dinner meeting at the Concord Inn in Concord, to hear of plans to erect a new sanctuary on the present site of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center.

Mrs. Bernice Scharlack reviewed the history of the center which was initiated by a small group of women who formed the League of Jewish Women in 1951 for the purpose of starting a Sunday school for the children.

THE MEN soon stepped into the picture and a community center was formed two years later followed by the purchase of the land and building at 3900 Mount Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

From a meager 25 families over 10 years ago, the Community Center has grown to a membership of over 190 families, with better than 250 children in Sunday school.

THIS IS THE INSPIRING view from the back of the sanctuary facing the altar of the new sanctuary planned for the Jewish Community Center. Total cost of the facility, excluding the social hall portion, is estimated at $221,000.

OTHER speakers of the evening were: Harry Lotzkar, building drive chairman; Milton Greenstein, building plans; past president Fred Katzberg; Dr. Leonard Morgenstern, president, and Rabbi David Robbins.

Initial pledges for the building fund by the campaign workers alone totaled $43,000 before the drive started. To start construction a minimum of $150,000 is needed with a completion cost of approximately $225,000. The Arctic hare has the largest feet of any member of the rabbit family, according to the National Automobile Club. The hind feet may measure as much as seven inches from the tip of the toenail to the back of the heel.

Children's Theater Play Comes to Acalanes Sat.

"The Emperor's New Clothes" will be the second selection of the East Bay Children's Theatre series of four plays.

Performances will be Saturday, January 6 at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at Acalanes High School.

A non-profit organization, the East Bay Children's Theatre, Inc. is dedicated to bringing the world of excitement of real live plays to children.

The volunteer members spend many hours in the construction of sets and the making of costumes for the forthcoming plays "Hansel and Gretel" and "Alice in Wonderland."

The current production of "The Emperor's New Clothes" will be staged by the Children's Theatre of the West under the direction of Wilma Hack Murphy and will be performed also at Piedmont High School on January 13 and at Garfield Junior High School in Berkeley on January 20.

Do Something About the Hump Says Governor

Governor Edmund (Pat) Brown has told his public works director to do something about the big hump on the Oakland Bay Bridge.

He wrote to Robert B. Bradford, "... you are authorized to take any steps necessary to insure an absolute minimum of traffic interruption in the future."

"I particularly insist that the public be given ample warning and full explanation when the project will unavoidably cause delays in traffic movement," Brown said.

Taxpayers' Ass'n New Directors Elects Two

President E. L. Slagle of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association announced today the election of two new directors to fill vacancies on the board of the taxpayers' association.

Dana Murdock, attorney of the firm of Tinning and DeLap of Richmond and Martinez, who is a resident of Lafayette, was elected for a three-year term in the homeowner classification.

Warren G. Buchanan, former county supervisor and a realtor and resident of Pittsburg, was elected to complete the term of former director Edward Rowland of Lafayette who resigned because of the press of other activities.

This directorship also represents the homeowners. Murdock and Buchanan have long been active in Contra Costa County, both on a county-wide and on an area basis.

President Slagle stated: "I am sure that the addition of these directors will contribute greatly to the increased effectiveness of the taxpayers' association."

Golden Arrow Days

Exceptional January values are offered during the Golden Arrow Days, being held today through Saturday in Broadway Shopping Center.

"We like to combine a kickoff event for the new year with an annual clearance sale being held by many stores in the center," said B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

"Our customers should watch for the Golden Arrows throughout the center. They will point out to each merchant's top bargains, and believe me, there will be plenty of them."

"This is the fourth year the Golden Arrow has pointed to January specials, and the people have come to know they can be time-savers in discovering what items you want are featured," said Horne.

"There may have been certain items which you had your eye on during the holidays, but decided the holiday budget wouldn't allow it. Those items often are featured during Golden Arrow Days, and at big savings," Horne added.

"This special event became one of Broadway's major promotions of the season when we learned the first time how the people welcome it," Horne said.

Parking Is Plentiful

Plenty of parking space is always available in Broadway Shopping Center. There are 2100 parking spots.

If you do not find a space immediately in one lot, just drive to the next lot.

Broadway's policy has consistently been to expand the parking facilities along with the stores, said B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Time To Consider Pruning Now

Rose pruning need not be rushed. January is usually the best month for the job in California.

Grapes may be pruned any time now. Be sure you know what you want the vine to do before you start. Ask your CAN nurseryman if you're not sure.

Most bare root stock is available now—not only roses but fruit trees, spring-flowering shrubs and others.

When giving azaleas or other gift plants, include a reminder to keep them watered and fed on your gift card.

How About Men in PTA? See Suburbia Today!

Ten years ago, a man at a Parent-Teacher Association meeting was something of a curiosity; today, one-third of all the 12 million members are fathers determined to cope with the man-sized problems of modern education. A report on this successful invasion of the country's 47,000 PTA's is the lead feature in the January issue of Suburbia Today, which will come to you with the January 5 edition of your Sun.

Then, for the benefit of club members, hostesses, committee chairmen, and other normal souls, there's an article by Philip Wylie, famous author of Generation of Vipers, in which he confesses he not only has trouble remembering names, but most faces, alas, escape him as well.

Kay Nelson's household includes her daughter Hilary, age

10, and a mare named Nina. This month, Mrs. Nelson tells about meeting a what happened when Nina came to live with them.

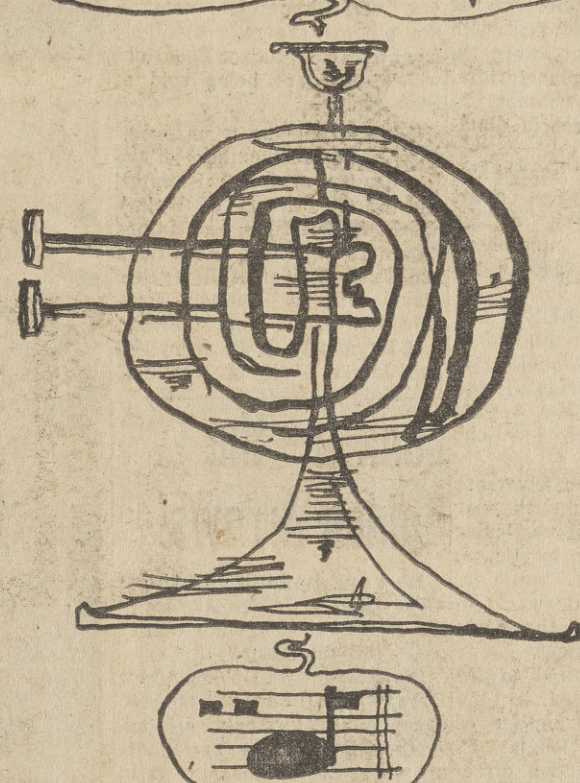

Garden editor John Brimer discusses prize winning All-American Selections, and some old favorites that are making news this year—verbena, feverfew, phlox and hollyhocks on five-foot stems.

The food pages for January are devoted to "Special of the Southland"—Kitchen-tested gumbo and beaten biscuits and pies and Burgoo, the traditional Derby Day stew that takes six hours to fix and worth every minute of it.

Our news column, "Getting Around," should prove an invaluable aid to road-weary tourists, dentists, and fathers with lots of unmarried daughters still on their hands.

Famed Madrigal Singers Issue First Recording

The famed Madrigal Singers of Diablo Valley College, financed by the associated students, have issued their first recording, the Madrigal Singers in the Planetarium.

As the title indicates the seven numbers on the disc, with the exception of one, were recorded in the DVC planetarium, a circular, domed chamber 21 feet high and 24 feet in diameter.

The singers were seated approximately eight feet apart around the perimeter of the chamber, with the microphone pickup placed high and in the center.

THIS ARRANGEMENT, and the chamber itself, resulted in a unique acoustical quality. In one number the Madrigals joined voices with the college A Cappella Choir to produce the Echo Song.

The Madrigals themselves are selected by audition each year from the choir. This particular group was directed by Dr. J. Philip Dalby, former music instructor and now dean of instruction, who taped the songs on amateur equipment.

The pressing, limited to 250 copies, was produced by the Location Recording Service of North Hollywood. Douglas E. Eichelberger, production director, lauded both the professional quality of the singing, and the enterprise of the associated students.

HE EXPRESSED the hope that either the choir or singers, or both, would produce at least one such recording a year.

A non-commercial venture, the albums are only available from the DVC Student Bookstore where they are being sold at cost—$2.60.

Madrigal singing is unaccompanied. The 10 members of the DVC group are: Sue Bashford and Cherie Gilbert of Walnut Creek, Robert Hunn and James Wimmer of Concord, Diane Luna and Fred Gandel of Lafayette, Margie Hill of Antioch, Priscilla Grover of Port Chicago, Ted Davidovich of Pleasant Hill and Janice Groth of Martinez.

Mental Retardation Will Be Discussed By Expert

Teachers of classes operated by the county superintendent's office and by Mt. Diablo Unified School District for several mentally retarded pupils will hear an expert on the subject January 10 at Jefferson School in Richmond.

Dr. Florence Dunlop, a Canadian who is visiting instructor at San Francisco State College, will speak at 3:30 p.m. on "Parent-Teacher Counseling." Dr. Dunlop has retired from active service after 23 years of experience in the field, including the position of director of special education in Ottawa.

The meeting is one of the last of a series of 15 being held by the group. Other specialists participating are Betty Johnson, consultant in special education of the mentally retarded, State Department of Education; and Dr. Jerome Rostheim, professor of education, San Francisco State College.

Lorenne Pitts, coordinator of special education, Contra Costa County schools, is coordinating the workshop series.

The 'Wagon' Is Compact, But Footloose

Ben Detweiler of 3197 Lucas Drive, Lafayette, sold his 1960 compact station wagon with a want ad in The Sun.

One Out of Four Students Don't Plan for College

One in four of the Contra Costa County students who rank in the top 15 per cent of their high school classes are not going on to college, a follow-up of graduates of three years discloses.

Of 445 academically "talented" students for whom information is available, 340 were in college and 105 were not. The latter identified themselves as housewife, employed, unemployed or in the service.

Girls outnumbered boys in the group but more than one-third were non-college as compared with one-seventh of the boys. One-fourth of the girls and one-twelfth of the boys were married.

Students who did continue their education went in largest number to: Diablo Valley College (108), University of California (79) and Stanford University (23), reports Roy Andreen of the county superintendent's staff.

The students graduated in 1955, 1957, or 1959.

Andreen said the information was drawn from a countywide follow-up of high school graduates being undertaken cooperatively by the county office and school districts with the primary objective of learning how well present high school courses prepare students for college and careers. The study is financed in part with funds from the National Defense Education Act.

Management in Industry to Be Offered by DVC

Eleven courses in industrial management, leading to the award of industrial supervisory certificates, will be offered at Diablo Valley College starting with the 1962 spring semester, January 31.

Mrs. Anne H. Miller, coordinator of industrial education, will be on campus from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. January 8 through January 11 to counsel applicants.

The management series, one phase of the college's part-time adult education program, was first offered in up-dated form last fall, at which time more than 200 persons filed applications.

The series is primarily designed for people in industry seeking to keep abreast of new developments and techniques, acquire more formal training, and meet the demands of advancing technology.

Course offerings will include basics of supervision, conference and interview techniques, communications, personnel management, accounting, group leadership, labor management relations, and organization and planning.

Bikes Travel A Long Way With The Sun

Robert Harrison of 110 Price Lane, Pleasant Hill, sold a boy's bike and a girl's bike, also a twin box spring and mattress with a single want ad in The Sun.

R. L. Boucher of 3355 Betty Lane, Lafayette had the same results with a boy's bike.

E. Redmond of 51 Layman Court, Walnut Creek, sold a drop-leaf table with extra leaf and four chairs with one Sun want ad.

Roy Collins of 508 Evergreen Drive, Concord, sold an electric range through The Sun's columns.

These are typical of the hundreds of "success stories," credited to The Sun's "5-in-1" system, where each ad goes into the 50,000-circulation Sun Shopping News on Wednesday and the regular subscription newspapers on Friday.

They are: The Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

Your want ad will run for as little as $1.60 for 14 words. Call an ad writer at YE 4-5000, 284-4444 or CL 4-4444 today.

Meet Your Judge — Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn

By ELEANORE McKOY

Stumping a panel of experts would be a cinch for the attractive woman contentedly munching on a cheese-burger in a local restaurant the other day.

Were they to guess she is married, does all the cooking at home and is the mother of a freshman in high school, they would be right . . . partially.

Small, blonde Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn (christened Elizabeth Ellen) is the wife of Leon Rahn and mother of 14-year-old Michael Rahn.

She is also JUDGE RAHN. Judge of the municipal court of Walnut Creek. The only woman judge in Contra Costa County.

"I knew," Judge Rahn said, "when I was six years old I would become a lawyer." At this tender age the fact that her father was a lawyer may have influenced her.

IN GRACE SHE GREW . . . in spite of parental opposition and mother of 14-year-old Michael Rahn. She graduated from Boalt Hall in 1937 and was admitted to the bar the same year. In 1938 her impressive career began as assistant to the district attorney of Calaveras County.

Happily ever after . . . returning from Honolulu where she had been serving in the legal section of the office of the military governor, Elizabeth Ellen Fitzgerald met Leon Rahn. They were married in 1943. Ah, those shipboard romances!

Mr. Rahn said, when questioned regarding his feeling on being married to a judge, "I don't feel I'm married to a judge." Touche.

What does a woman judge look like? May we hasten to assure you she does not have two heads and most certainly does not carry a whip! On the day this reporter talked with her, Judge Rahn was wearing a beige wool dress.

All the more beautiful for its simplicity. A small gold pin adorned the fur collar. This pin and a bracelet (other than engagement and wedding ring) were her only jewelry. Small gold footballs, memoirs of Mr. Rahn's college days hung from the bracelet.

A good guess would be that a woman judge looks like a lady. Sorry, but it's a fact.

MR. AND MRS. RAHN and son Michael live in Walnut

Creek. Their modern type home is, for the most part, done in colors of rust, charcoal brown and blue. Although Judge Rahn has a housekeeper, she does all of the cooking. Each year as his birthday cake Mr. Rahn chooses a family favorite, Mrs. Rahn's date-nut cake.

"I retired," Judge Rahn said, "for the sake of dignity when I was expecting Michael. Construction on our home had just begun, there was much to be done. I felt wonderful until one day, while lifting and inspecting flagstone for our patio, a worker gently asked if I thought I should be doing this in my 'condition.' It took me a few moments to realize just what 'condition' he was talking about. I tried after that (for the sake of dignity) not to feel so well."

Eyes the color of blue diamonds sparkled as she said, "No, I do not consider myself a politician. My job is a legal one. I resent the time I must of necessity allot to politics."

WHEN MARSHALL Clint Jones, or his assistant George Sciaqua say "Please rise," perhaps there will be something vaguely familiar about the small, blonde woman who enters and takes her place on the bench.

Does she remind you of the woman in the restaurant who asked the waitress where she had bought her blouse, saying, "I bought one just like it in Europe last year."

Are you having difficulty imagining this stern faced woman dressed in the black robes of justice giggling as the waitress replied, "I bought mine locally, perhaps we are exporting them."

Mrs. Leon Rahn is now Judge Betsy Fitzgerald Rahn.

Career in Rehabilitation Discussed in Pamphlet

How prospective college students can prepare for challenging professional careers in the field of rehabilitation is described in a new free booklet, announced today by the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Contra Costa County.

Prepared by the staff of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the booklet is designed to recruit young men and women for this comparatively new and expanding field with opportunities relating to rehabilitation of handicapped persons.

There is a critical shortage of trained personnel working with the crippled.

Thousands of crippled children and handicapped adults needing rehabilitation services are being denied help because of the lack of trained personnel.

Titled "Your Future—A Career in Rehabilitation," the booklet outlines rehabilitation services performed by the nation-wide network of 1400 affiliated Easter Seal societies, one of the largest employers of rehabilitation specialists, and describes qualifications and opportunities for each specialty.

The booklet contains capsule descriptions of duties and services performed by the physical therapist, occupational therapist, speech pathologist, audiologist, psychologist, social worker, rehabilitation counselor and special educator—all of whom play an important role in making up the rehabilitation team.

To explore fully careers in rehabilitation, the booklet advises students to consult school counselors, read the "Health Career Guidebook" available through guidance programs of most high schools and colleges, visit when possible, hospitals, treatment centers, clinics, rehabilitation facilities, or special schools, and talk with professional workers.

According to Mrs. Ardis Loonie, executive director of the County Easter Seal Society, interested students may call Easter Seal Headquarters concerning visiting the Easter Seal Vocational Training Workshop in Richmond.

Need Engineers

Contra Costa County has openings for junior civil engineers with public works and the flood control district.

Applicants must have a B.S. degree with a major in civil engineering. Those who will be receiving their B.S. in February County Easter Seal Society, in-

Retraining Class For Area Nurses Beginning Jan. 15

Registered nurses who have retired but are still eligible for licensing in California may now apply to attend a new re-training program which will be offered at Diablo Valley College beginning January 15.

The course, concepts in current nursing, is the first to be given anywhere in Northern California.

It is designed for inactive nurses who would like to return to the profession, but who need to be brought up to date on new techniques of patient care and the use of modern medical tools and drugs.

Dr. J. Phillip Dalby, DVC dean of instruction, said that the college decided to offer the course after a survey showed that 150 registered nurses in the central and eastern sections of the county had an interest in such training.

APPLICATION forms are now available from the administration offices of the college and can be requested by mail.

The course will run for 10 weeks, covering 120 hours of lectures and laboratory experience in the classroom, as well as on-the-job clinical experience in four central and eastern county participating hospitals — Kaiser Foundation in Walnut Creek, the county hospital in Martinez, the Pittsburg Community Hospital, and the Concord Community Hospital.

The course instructor will be Mrs. Carol Gleit. Mrs. Gleit, herself a registered nurse, holds a master's degree in nursing education from the University of Pittsburgh.

A Math Class For Parents

Mt. Diablo Evening School is offering a "Math for Parents" class on Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. at Mt. Diablo High School during the winter term which will be starting in January.

Twenty or more registrations are necessary in order to start the class.

James Woolum, widely known for his mathematical knowledge as well as his skill and understanding as a teacher, will present to the parents the modern concepts of mathematical principles and explain the changes in methods of teaching which have taken place in the last five years.

Grant Will Provide for County Schools Study

What in the school environment itself may cause the student to succeed or fail in his studies? What changes might help—smaller classes, more intensive instruction, treatment of physical or emotional illness, or a combination?

These are the questions that underlie research to be undertaken in Contra Costa County with a Rosenberg Foundation grant of $28,700. Reporting to the county board of education today, Project Director Frank Gurley said that field studies will begin within the next few weeks. A minimum 13 school districts will participate. Two districts will submit their preliminary plans sometime this month.

GURLEY, who is both project director and director of research for Contra Costa County schools, terms the object of the study "the prevention of underachievement." Whatever the means to be used to prevent underachievement, they should be introduced at an early age, when the child can be most helped.

The study, however, will be as wide as possible. It will include students from the early grades through high school and will use all disciplines possible—education, medicine, psychiatry, etc.

Director Gurley said that within the framework of the study, the school districts will pursue their own particular interests. The ideas they have advanced revolve generally around special groupings. One proposes to teach as few as neurologically handicapped children in a class, another to reduce the teacher-pupil ratio from the present 1 to 35 to 1 to 20.

ANOTHER POSSIBILITY is to use remediation for all children identified as potential underachievers with the thought of returning them to the normal classroom as soon as possible. Remediation would run the gamut from instruction through treatment of physical and emotional problems.

The present study has its roots in a meeting of approximately 60 educators, officials of community agencies, parents and physicians, who gathered at the invitation of the Contra Costa County Health Department in November, 1959, to discuss the problem of children considered potentially or actually emotionally disturbed and unable to learn as effectively as they should.

SMALL GROUPS of children in special classes were studied by Mrs. Georgia Cooper of the county superintendent's staff, and Dr. B. Otis Cobb of the health department. On the basis of their conclusions, the present Rosenberg Foundation grant was awarded.

Gurley is responsible for recording what has already been done in the county, preparing the field for the study and formulating a research design to accompany an application for funds to carry on a long-term research project.

Spring Slips in During Winter; Watch for Buds!

It's been said that the only trouble with California's spring is that you never know when it starts. Many spring-blooming bulbs show color in late January and February.

Camellias bloom right through winter and some azaleas follow suit. Annuals such as pansies and primulas are as prevalent in February as they are in March or April.

But who's to complain? Isn't this just like saying that it's almost always spring in California—or that our winter is spring-like in its relative mildness? This is hardly trouble as we see it.

Still and all, there's something nice about watching plants go dormant and then blossom forth almost overnight with color on bare branches. And even if they do this in mid-winter hereabouts, it's suddenly spring when they come out.

CONSIDER, then, planting some of the better deciduous shrubs and enjoying their annual change. Your rewards will be great when they break their winter rest.

Flowering quinces, for instance, are lovely heralds of spring, breaking bloom early in the new year. Their delicacy is to be cherished, both in the garden and in the house where cut branches are used as decoration. Pink, red, white, coral and variations thereof in double and single blooms are available.

For those who haven't tried it, local members of the California Association of Nurserymen recommend the beauty bush for its long, arching branches of delicate pink blooms in spring.

THIS LITTLE-known shrub is a real winner when it's well established—not far different than the more familiar weigela, except blooms are smaller, more delicate and more profuse. Plant both weigela and beauty bush for a good show.

Plant, also, the delicate yellow sprays of golden bells and the traditional beauty of dogwood—not our native variety, which is best in its native foothills, but the eastern dogwood, which does well in northern California. And lastly, by all means plant the prolific deciduous magnolias.

They really deserve a story by themselves, for there just aren't any showier spring shrubs to be found—not anywhere. If that seems a strong recommendation, be assured that it is.

Most Gift Plants Can Be Planted

Christmas gift plants should be carefully watered. Most of them can be saved for the garden.

Chrysanthemums should be cut back to the ground if you haven't done it already.

Fuchsias are better pruned toward the end of winter than now. Wait until early February.

Many deciduous shrubs and trees need pruning at planting time. Ask your nurseryman.

Perennials may still be planted. Primroses, delphinium, phlox, columbine—many others are available.

Shipboard Romance Next Week

"Anything Goes," by Cole Porter, the premier production of the Contra Costa Musical Theater, will be presented today and tomorrow, also January 12 and 13 at Mt. Diablo High School auditorium.

Curtain time each night will be 8:30 p.m.

The musical theater group has 86 members, and plans to offer a varied list of musical productions, from musical comedy to opera.

"Anything Goes" is a story about a shipboard romance. Bound for England are Reno Sweeney, night club proprietress and her eight chorus girls, who manage to keep things lively.

Also aboard are the young lovers, Billy Crocker and Hope Harcourt, who manage to entangle themselves with the problems of Rev. Dr. Moon, who is really public enemy No. 13 in disguise, and Bonnie Le Tour, a gun moll.

The cast of 50 and 15 members of the Contra Costa Musical Orchestra have been rehearsing under the direction of W. Grant Gray and Bob Williams.

Tickets for the musical comedy may be obtained at Reilly's Music Shop in Walnut Creek, or by phone.

Tickets will also be available at the door as long as there are unsold seats.
